New York Spy Probe Warms Up

Claim New Information

NEW YORK—(INS)—The double-barrelled federal probe of communist espionage centered in New York today, where House Un-American Activities committee members said "highly important" new information has been uncovered.

Rep. McDowell (R) Pa., a committee member, refused to disclose the nature of the new data he gathered in hotel-room questioning of a number of witnesses. He did not identify the witnesses, but said their testimony is "very, very new" and concerns "espionage in government affairs."

Meanwhile, the new federal grand jury, determined to probe fully into angles left undeveloped by its predecessor, called on the two chief informants in the spy case for more testimony.

Ex-communist spy courier Whittaker Chambers, apparently vindicated by the indictment of Alger Hiss, former high state department official, who accused Chambers of falsely naming him as a spy source, was closeted with the jury for some time.

The jury also prepared to quiz Elizabeth Bentley, like Chambers an admitted ex-communist who served as an espionage agent.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Walter Winchell reported today in the New York Daily Mirror that the FBI has identified the typewriter involved in the copying of stolen secret documents.

The house committee appeared determined to give the jury more new material for investigation and possible indictments.

(Rep. Mundt, (R) S.D., its acting chairman, disclosed in Washington he may come with Rep. Nixon (R) Cal., to New York for further questioning of both Chambers and Bentley.)

McDowell was said to have come to New York to talk to five witnesses yesterday. It was understood he had only questioned two.

Japan Seen Top Defense

Would Serve As Bulwark

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The United States is building up Japan as the bulwark of its Pacific defense line against communism, it was disclosed today.

Informed sources said this course has been selected by diplomatic and military leaders as the best bet to cope with recent communist advances in China.

These sources said the Japanese economic stabilization program, announced yesterday by the army and state department, was in line with the new policy of bolstering Japan. Gen. Douglas MacArthur was ordered to direct the Japanese to achieve economic stability "as rapidly as possible."

Japan was instructed to put into effect a sweeping nine-point economic program to combat inflation and speed recovery. At present, that country is costing American taxpayers some $1,000,000,000 a year to support. The government announcement implied that U.S. funds for Japan might be cut if the reforms failed.

While economic recovery was listed as the primary aim of the drastic program, officials said it was a move to prod the Japanese into action in behalf of their strategic interests and those of the United States.

Faster Aircraft

WASHINGTON—(UP) —Planemaker Lawrence D. Bell, whose X-1 was the first plane to fly faster than the speed of sound, says aircraft can be built to travel "two or three times" that fast. That would mean speeds up to 2,200 miles an hour.

48 Pages of News, Holiday Features

Christmas, now just around the corner, will be the theme of the Sunday News-Journal.

Illustrated articles will include a preview of carolers who will lead the community sing Sunday night, examples of the right and wrong way to shop, and a survey of true-to-life toys.

In addition the big 48-page paper will bring up-to-the-minute local and world news, reports on society events and full coverage of sports.

Air Force Races Inclement Weather In Rescue Attempt

AAA Gives Poetic Tip To Drivers

WASHINGTON—(INS)—If you're going to drive on Christmas day, stay away from the wassail bowl.

That's the advice given today by George R. Hammond, safety and education director of the American Automobile association. Hammond quipped:

"In pies and puddings put rum and brandy; but not where drivers find it handy."

Snow Due Tonight

It's too early for predictions of snow for Christmas, but the weatherman said today the Mansfield area probably will get some pre-Christmas snow tonight or Sunday.

It all depends upon how much the mercury rises today. If it climbs much above freezing, the snow will change to rain, the forecaster said.

The temperature dropped to -21 in Mansfield this morning and stood at 26 at noon.

Threat of any major flood in Ohio had apparently passed today but at least 11 highways were still closed because of high water.

The rain-swollen Ohio river began receding at East Liverpool after attaining a crest of 29.3 feet, three feet under flood stage. Only minor flooding occurred in low lying areas.

The state highway department reported the following routes still closed by high water:

Seven at Proctorville, Lawrence county; 52 and 73, one mile west of Portsmouth; 124 from Portland to Long Bottom, Meigs county; 141, ten miles west of Gallipolis and at Arabia in Lawrence county; 146, from Pleasant City to Cumberland, Guernsey county; 203, between Prospect and Highway 4; 217 at Linville, Lawrence county; 218, south of Yellowtown, Gallia county; 243 at Gettaway, Lawrence county; and 248 at Long Bottom, Meigs county.

Two Confess To Murder

MONROE, Mich. — (INS) — Michigan state police reported today two Army deserters picked up for routine questioning confessed to slaying an 80-year-old Toledo woman even before local police knew of the crime.

Trooper Edward Mongeon, of the Erie post, said the soldiers—Ira T. Howell, 17, of Beckley, W. Va., and Harold Sweet, 22, of Johnstown, Ohio — admittedly bludgeoned Mrs. Lucille Harwold to death for her jewelry.

The officer said their loot consisted of a watch and ring valued at 500 dollars.

The alleged deserters from Fort Jackson, S. C., broke down quickly when troopers, noting blood on their trousers and hands, departed from routine questioning and grilled them separately.

Mrs. Chambers Held In Death

BALTIMORE — (INS- — Mrs. Whittaker Chambers, wife of the confessed ex-communist, faced a preliminary hearing today in connection with the traffic death of a 70-year-old woman.

Police said Mrs. Chambers was the driver of an automobile which struck and fatally injured Mrs. Maggie Thomas last night.

Chrged with assaulting a pedestrian and thereby causing her death, Mrs. Chambers was released on bond afttr appearing in police court with her husband. Her preliminary hearing was set for this morning.

Fire All Strikers

COLUMBUS— (INS) —Officials of the strike-crippled American Zinc Oxide company at Columbus prepared today to open full-scale operations at the plant by firing those still out on strike and hiring replacements. They spiked reports of a near settlement as "false rumors."

Ten Fliers Marooned On Ice Cap

'Weather Front' Slated to Strike

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— A rescue plane was ready today for a third attempt to snatch a group of marooned fliers from a storm-threatened Greenland icecap in a glider, the air force announced here.

Ten and possibly 11 men now are stranded atop the 7,700-foot cap. The rescuers were working against time. A "weather front" is reported heading into the area and may strike later in the day.

An air force spokesman said the fliers have been advised to build a short plywood runway which would permit the glider to take off without digging into the snow.

Two rescue attempts were thwarted yesterday when the glider's wheels broke through the frozen crust and the plane "nosed up." Presumably, the rescue ship, a C-54 transport, had made contact with the glider but could not tow it into the air. However, none of the airmen was hurt.

Seven of the men have been marooned since Dec. 9 when their C-47 crash-landed on the icecap. Two others were stranded four days later when their B17 cracked up during a rescue attempt.

The air force spokesman said a pilot and perhaps one helper were dropped with the glider yesterday. Such an operation, he said, usually requires two specialists to set up the "snatching equipment."

The idea is for the C-54 to swoop low and hook onto the glider by means of a special tow rope hung between two uprights.

Atmospheric disturbances disrupted radio contact with the rescue area shortly after the glider was dropped, and air force headquarters was unable to confirm the number of men actually grounded.

Subsequent reports on the mission have been relayed to air force headquarters here by Blue West One airfield at Narsarssuak, Greenland. That is about 110 miles from where the fliers are down.

Ohioan's Wife Gets Wish; He Gets Jailed

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—Louisville authorities last night answered the appeal of a Windham, O., mother of five young boys to find her husband in time for Christmas.

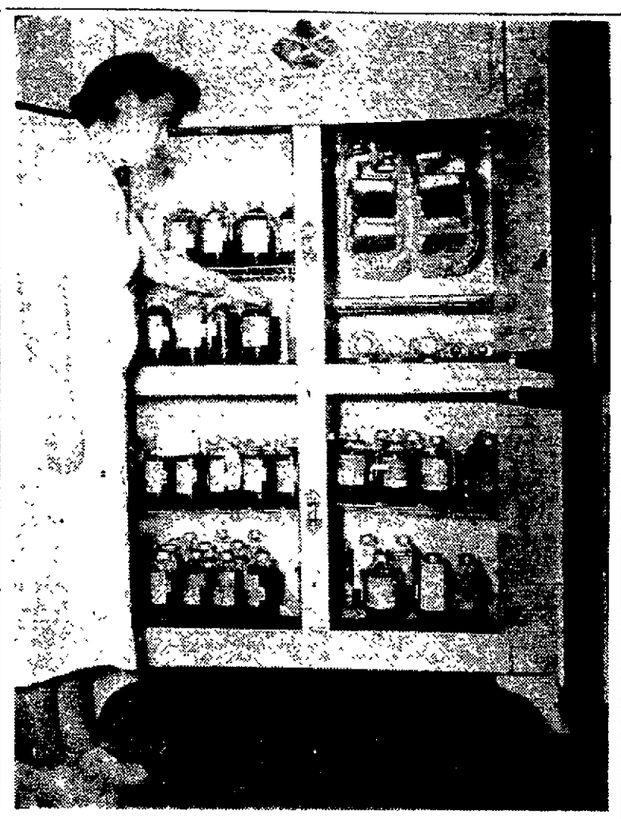
They arrested him here on a charge of bigamy, Police Lt. Robert Creager said.

James Arthur Marlowe, 32, left home Oct. 5 to rejoin the army at nearby Fort Knox, Mrs. Marlowe wrote. Her one wish for Christmas, she said, was his return.

Yesterday the Louisville Times published portions of Mrs. Marlowe's letter and a picture of Marlowe in uniform. Someone remembered.

SEE PRICE DROP

CHICAGO — (UP) — Food industry authorities look for "slightly lower" food prices in 1949, the bulletin of the National Association of Retail Grocers said today.



GETS BLOOD SUPPLY—Miss Mary Lewis, in charge of the clinical laboratory at General hospital, examines the initial supply of blood brought to the hospital by the newly-established Red Cross blood mobile unit. General hospital received 60 pints of blood for use throughout the county. Any physician or doctor may draw on this supply when necessary, Wayne A. Copeland, superintendent, said. A second visit will be made to the hospital on Dec. 29 in order to replenish the supply. If, however, the supply gets low in the meantime or a particular type of blood is needed that is not in the blood bank here, hospital officials may call on the Red Cross mobile again and it will make a special trip.

Brighten a Christmas

Baskets, Few Toys Would Cheer Yule

One Mansfield war veteran and his wife will have much to be thankful for this Christmas. Their only child, a nine-month-old baby, is on the road to recovery from a long siege of pneumonia.

However, medical expenses incurred during the illness have been large. The husband is employed regularly but expenses have exceeded his income. A well-filled basket of food and fruit, with maybe a toy or two for the youngster, could "Brighten-the-Christmas" for this young family.

A fourteen-year-old girl who lives in a foster home in a nearby town is still in need of a friend to make her Christmas a bit merrier this year. There are no relatives from whom the young girl will receive Christmas gifts. She is a ward of the Richland county Children's home.

In another instance, some new items of clothing, perhaps a sweater for the fourteen-month-old boy, or a dainty dress for the three-month-old girl, would make a happy Christmas for a young couple who live in a trailer. The father works daily, but his income is sufficient only to provide the necessities for his small family.

Sickness has cut deeply into the finances of another Mansfield man, the father of three young children. A basket of groceries and a chicken for their Christmas dinner would be most welcome.

Anyone wishing to "Brighten-the-Christmas" of these or other needy families may call Mrs Margaret Mattox, daily, except Sundays, at the News-Journal office, 4251-6, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Banner Crop Year Noted

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Farmers wrote 1948 into the books today as the banner crop year of them all.

They combined a fine growing season with improved farm practices to set numerous records, both for total production and yield per acre.

In its annual summary, issued yesterday, the agriculture department placed the total volume of all crops at 137 per cent of the 1932-33 base—11 points above the previous high of 126 set in 1946.

In the wake of the final report on 1948 crops, the department got ready to issue Monday its first forecast for 1949 on winter wheat.

PROBE TRAFFIC DEATH

CLEVELAND — (INS) — A coroner's report was awaited today to determine the cause of the death of Joseph Blash, 68, of Cleveland, who died last night after being struck by an automobile.

GOP Leaders to Confer

Believe Taft to Fight for Leadership

WASHINGTON—(UP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., made it clear today that he has no intention of taking a back seat in Republican congressional policy decisions.

Taft told a news conference he had not definitely made up his mind whether to seek another term as chairman of the Republican policy committee, but added that "of course I'm much interested."

The Ohioan said he "did not start any idea" of his stepping down from his key spot.

Taft indicated strongly that he would have a major voice in determining party policy matters whether it was from the policy committee chairmanship or from another leadership post.

He said he planned to start at once discussing the matter with Senate President Arthur H. Vandenburg, R., Mich., and about a dozen other key Republican senators.

Taft's determination to retain a major voice in GOP policy matters indicated an early showdown with a so-called "liberal" wing of the party which seeks new leadership in congress and the Republican national committee.

Taft returned yesterday from a six weeks European tour and he touched on almost a dozen widely scattered topics.

Taft told newsmen:

He doubted whether a suggestion from Rep. Hugh Scott, R., Pa., GOP national chairman to hold an early national Republican policy conference, was advisable.

Republicans probably will push anti-filibuster curbs in the senate early next year.

There were indications that Democratic hopes to maintain peace within their own ranks on the touchy civil rights issue may be doomed to failure.

Republicans will counter Democratic efforts to repeal the Taft-Hartley labor law by forcing record votes on that bill's major provisions.

Asked if he might be available for the GOP presidential nomination in 1952, he replied: "I'm running for the senate in Ohio in 1950 and I cannot see one day beyond that."

Ford Sees Big Mail Jam Monday

Holiday Rush Finally Gets Under Way

Monday is expected to be a big day at the Mansfield post office, Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said today.

Yesterday, for the first time this week, cancellations at the post office exceeded cancellations on the same date last year, a sign that the Christmas mailing rush is finally getting under way.

One hundred extra men and 15 trucks were being used by the post office this morning to speed handling and delivery of holiday mail. The number of parcel post packages being handled at the Armory also is increasing daily, Ford said. Only packages for local distribution are processed at the Armory.

Yesterday's cancellations were 180,072, more than 32,000 ahead of the corresponding date last year.

Stamp sales yesterday continued to show an increase over the same date last year. Eighty thousand stamps were sold yesterday, 10,000 more than on the corresponding day in 1947.

However, receipts from stamp sales yesterday were lower than those of a year ago, since fewer three-cent stamps were sold yesterday than on the same day of 1947.

Total receipts yesterday also were lower than for the corresponding date a year ago. Yesterday's receipts were $2,181, compared with $2,541 on the corresponding day in 1947.

Government Established

THE HAGUE—(AP)—The Dutch government issued a royal decree today providing for establishment of a new Indonesian government without the Indonesian republic.

The government said the decree called "Regime of Indonesia in the Transition Period," aims at the establishment of a government for all Indonesia (the Netherlands East Indies) which in Dutch opinion is closest "to the wishes of the great majority of the Indonesian people."

(The United Nations good offices committee in Indonesia announced it had cabled to the Security council in Paris a special report on the latest exchange of correspondence between the two groups.)

The Dutch broke off negotiations with the Indonesians last Saturday and announced they would set up an interim United States of Indonesia without the republic.

Two Bandits Burn Woman With Toaster

DETROIT —(UP)— Mrs. Thelma Mantelos, 50, told police today that two armed bandits burned her feet with a red-hot toaster for an hour in an effort to get more than $10 they found when they ransacked her home.

She said the men entered her home yesterday posing as electric company employes. They knocked her unconscious with a revolver and then searched the house for receipts from the Mantelos restaurant, she told police.

Mrs. Mantelos said the robbers revived her with cold water, tied her to a davenport and tortured her with the toaster. She fainted and when she revived two hours later the robbers were gone, she said.

No Cause for Alarm, Says Auto Official

TOLEDO — (INS) — Karl M. Greiner, vice president of the Packard Motor company, believes a buyers' market is a normal market and should cause no apprehension in the automobile industry.

That was the opinion he aired in Toledo yesterday when he spoke before the Toledo Trade association.

Carols To Echo In City

When Senior high school carolers sing Sunday night in Central park, their voices will be carried to most of the downtown section by loudspeakers.

Dick VanVoorhis, general chairman of the arrangements committee, announced the loudspeakers as a surprise.

Carols will be sung in the park from 9:45 to 10:15 p. m.

Use of a public address system will prevent the confusion which attended the carol sing last year when the audience in the far corners of the park were unable to follow the seniors in the bandstand. Bleachers will be set up tomorrow night.

This year with a choir of 31 seniors and 38 juniors on the bleachers, to be erected at the southwest corner of the park, and the public address system, the carols should be heard in every corner of the park and on surrounding downtown streets as well.

"The loudspeaker system is the one thing that will make our caroling a complete success," VanVoorhis said.

Tomorrow night when carolers start singing at 9 p. m. from 14 city intersections in the city, VanVoorhis expects there will be at least 500 ready to join in the swelling chorus of Christmas song.

Assassins Beaten Off

Twelve Koreans Die In Attempt

SEOUL —(AP)— Twelve Koreans were killed during an unsuccessful assassination attempt against Governor Le Nam Kyu of South Cholla province yesterday, the home ministry announced today.

The governor's party was attacked by 200 guerrillas. The ministry reported that the governor's secretary, nine police guards and two guerrillas were slain. The guerrillas fled after a clash with others in the governor's guard.

Governor Le was en route from Kwangju, provincial capital of South Cholla province, to Sunchon to attend memorial services for South Korean officers slain in the Oct. 20 short-lived rebellion.

Leaders of the rebellion, accused of being communists from Russian-occupied north Korea, still remain in the area.

Union Meets On Findings

CHICAGO — (UP) — Union representatives of 1,000,000 non-operating railroad workers will meet here Monday to consider a presidential fact-finding board's suggestions for settling their dispute with the nation's railroads.

About 1,200 officials of the 16 unions involved in the dispute are expected to attend the meetings which will run through Tuesday.

Unless the workers accept the fact-finding board's proposals a national railway strike is likely after Jan. 17.

The board recommended yesterday that the railroads institute a 40-hour week, instead of the present 48-hour work week, and grant the workers a seven cent hourly pay boost.

Slayer Pleads Self Defense

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — (UP) — Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, 29, rallied from the effects of self-administered poison today and claimed he killed his wife's lover in self defense.

Rutledge admitted that he fought with Byron C. Hattman, in a Cedar Rapids, Ia., hotel but claimed he did not know that Hattman was injured fatally.

Rutledge told detectives that he went to Cedar Rapids to offer Hattman money to stay away from his beautiful honey blond wife, Sidney, 23.

Ohio's Corn Crop; 57,648,000 Bushels

WASHINGTON— (AP) —The agricultural department yesterday estimated Ohio's corn crop this year at 215,924,000 bushels and the wheat crop at 57,648,000 bushels.

The figures were cited in a report which gave an estimate for this year's record national corn crop at 3,650,548,000 bushels and the wheat crop at 1,288,406,000

All-Out Defense Ordered

Airfield Falls Before Onslaught

NANKING—(INS)—Eight communist armies closed in on Peiping for the kill tonight at Nationalist leaders ordered their troops to battle to the end on all fronts.

The Reds claimed in a radio broadcast that they were battering at the gates of China's oldest city and also asserted they had captured Peiping's largest airfield.

The city's southern airport was under heavy communist shell fire but was reported still in government hands.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek ordered strong naval reinforcements rushed to the aid of Nationalist forces stationed at the port of Tangktu near Tientsin.

Chiang also was said to have demanded a bitter-end defense of the Yangtze river barrier which defends Nanking, Shanghai and all of central China from the southward thrust of the Red armies.

Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, military commander in north China, was reported to have ordered his field commanders to put up a last-ditch defense of Peiping and Tientsin on the northern front.

DEFENSE READIED

Gen Fu has concentrated his troops in the Peiping suburbs in what is believed to be preparation for large scale defensive counter attacks.

His forces were said to have evacuated Peitang, 30 miles east of Tientsin which guards Tangku, the government's only outlet to the sea in north China.

Pro-government sources in Tientsin admitted that the Reds had captured two suburbs on the outskirts of Peiping, where there was believed to be heavy fighting.

As the communists pressed new attacks towards the Yangtze river on the central front to within 40 miles of Nanking, Chiang was said to have called a high strategic conference in which leading officials of the defense ministry participated.

At this meeting Chiang was reliably reported to have reiterated forcefully his determination to carry on the fight as he ordered new defense measures above the Yangtze.

Northeast of Nanking, communists troops in the grand canal area were already reported in training for an attempt to cross the one to two-mile-wide river which bars their entry to the heart of China.

Red forces, infiltrating the government's last big defense line on the Hwai river about 100 miles northwest of Nanking, continued their attempts to cut the rail link between Pengpu and Pukow. They have penetrated to within 40 miles of Nanking.

Firm Gives Almost 4-Million In Bonus

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Employes at the Lincoln Electric company went Christmas shopping today with annual incentive payment checks averaging $3,392 per worker.

The company handed out a total of $3,821,973 yesterday to its 1,097 workers. It was the largest amount paid since the company started the unique plan back in 1934 and doubled the employes' 1948 earnings.

Bulletin

A Greyhound bus overturned shortly after noon today in Litchfield, 10 miles west of Medina, and several passengers were injured, the state highway patrol reported. A Litchfield merchant said five persons were taken to hospitals. Others suffered lesser injuries, he said. There were 20 persons on the bus which was en route from Akron to Detroit over State Route 18.

Washington Termed American 'Ghetto'

Cynics may sneer and enemies of America chortle at the irony of the adoption by the U.N. General assembly of the Declaration of Human Rights on the very day of the revelation of the denial of human rights in the nation's capital. The United States was one of the forty-eight nations which voted for the principle that "recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world," while the report of the distinguished committee on segregation in the nation's capital revealed that in that city, "We have been building ghettos off the mind, body and spirit."

But no time should be wasted in defeatist talk about the wide margin between the principles and the actual conditions in Washington as revealed by this study We have put ourselves voluntarily on the spot by signing the declaration and pledging our support to a protocol for implementation of the convention through the creation of an international court of human rights and an international committee of conciliation.

There is work to be done. The first job is the one in the 81st Congress to clean up at home. Any attempt at obstruction or chicanery should be met by the greatest condemnation of public opinion which the country has ever seen.

Swift enactment of laws to outlaw job and educational discrimination, disfranchisement and mob murder can be achieved within a few weeks of the opening of congress if the American public serves notice upon its elected representatives in the congress that it wants this done

The report of the committee on segregation in Washington was drafted by some of the most distinguished Americans At Paris we have joined in pledging that "everyone has the right to work to the free choice of employment to just and favorable conditions of work and to protection against unemployment."

But it is now revealed that our own government is the chief offender in denying this right to work along with those 'on a high policy level where the segregation of the Negro is planned as a matter of good business and investments are made in the denial of his equal right to own property."

WASHINGTON 'GHETTO'

At Paris we have joined forty-seven other nations in declaring that "everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth in this declaration without distinction of any kind such as race color, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth, or other status". But against this pledge rises the unpleasant truth "Ghetto is an ugly word but in the capital of the nation live a quarter of a million people, one-fourth of the city, who need no marks sewed on their clothing

One of the most cherished folk beliefs of the American citizen is the Horatio Alger concept of rising from rags to riches. But the report on conditions in Washington declars that "if Horatio Alger had had a colored face, he would have had a hard time in the capital today."

The incredible conditions revealed in this report for fortunately far from being static For generations there has been a rigid color line in the hospital system of Washington But one courageous public official, Oscar Ewing of the Federal Security agency, ordered the color bar removed from Gallinger hospital. This experiment in human decency has met with success

We have taken a solemn pledge at Paris to join with others in fulfilling the promise that "everyone has the right freely to participate in the cultural life of the community, to enjoy the arts, and to share in scientific advancement and its benefits." An ideal spot to begin keeping this solemn pledge is Washington, D C

This is much more than a task of living up to our protestations of democracy The fate not only of other parts of the world but of America itself is directly affected by this situation We can do it if only we have the vision, the courage and the enlightened self-interest which are necessary.

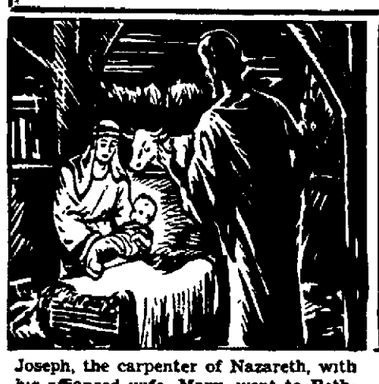
Good News Comes to World — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

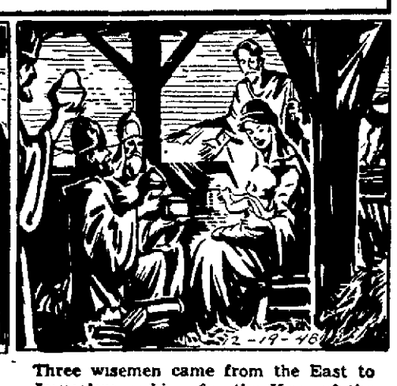
Scripture—Matthew 1:18-2:12; Mark 1:1-11; Luke 2:1-20.



Joseph, the carpenter of Nazareth, with his affianced wife, Mary, went to Bethlehem, 90 miles from their home to enroll there for the tax ordered by the Roman emperor, Caesar Augustus, and while there Mary gave birth to a son, and she wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger because no room was found in the inn.

On that night shepherds were watching their flocks in the hills around Bethlehem, and an angel appeared to them and told them not to be afraid, for "behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people For there is born to you this day in the city of David, a Saviour who is Christ the Lord

Other angels appeared too, singing "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill toward men" When the angels had gone, the shepherds hastened to Bethlehem and when they found the Babe, as the angel had said, they bowed down and worshipped Him, and then going on their way, they told all they met of the joyful tidings.



Three wisemen came from the East to Jerusalem, asking for the King of the Jews, for, they said, "We have seen His star in the east and are come to worship Him." They too found Joseph, Mary and the Holy Babe at Bethlehem and they too worshipped and left rich gifts for Him

The songs sung by the groups are traditional carols in other countries, but not familiar in America. Dramatizations and pantomimes were given by members of the dramatics class which included: Mildred Kirkpatrick, James Allen, Shirley Mott, Norma Falls, Joyce Cramer, Pat Doner, Pat Sites, Series Mitchell and Shirley Tucker. Diana Hale acted as announcer. To close the assembly the entire student body joined in singing traditional Christmas carols

Part of the students from the band and orchestra have formed a dance band under the direction of Miss Jeanne Worley They call themselves the "Music Makers" Members are Tommy Garn, Ken Cairns, Nelaura Orr Bob Sundell, Johnny Mastrek Jo Wojcik, Herbert Kronenfeld, Edmund Bard, Genevieve Hartig, Dave Edgerton Janet Neal Roger Ewers, Richard Baxter, and Allen Strong

The faculty and students wish to extend sympathy to Miss Margaret Wheeler, whose mother died this week

Many buttons were sold this week by the football and basketball teams The buttons are maroon and gold and bear the inscription "Appleseed Pioneers" The proceeds from these sales will go toward new basketball uniforms

A remodeling job is being done at Appleseed as all of the rooms are being plastered and painted During Christmas vacation, the halls also will be painted The board of education is taking charge of having a new sink installed in the manual training room

Homeroom 203 is planning a sleigh ride after Christmas with Cynthia Cretors in charge of all arrangements

The ninth grade home economics classes have been busy making Christmas candy for their families

The December meeting of the Appleseed P-TA was held on Thursday Rev Matthew G. Madden told a Christmas story. The ninth grade girls' glee club also sang Christmas carols.

That's all the news from Appleseed until next year

Sicilians Rap 'Independence'

PALERMO, SICILY, — (AP) —Clouds of terror and misery hang over this dusty, war-scarred city

Policemen warn you earnestly not to walk in some sectors of the town after dusk. "It is not safe," they say.

Last November in Palermo's park, a few hundred yards from the town's center, armed men halted a car carrying three people home from a party at the American consulate, kidnaped one and badly scared the others The kidnaped man was one of Sicily's rich landlords He has not been heard of since

This was merely one of a long train of similar crimes which authorities thus far have been unable to stamp out

Sicily is the first of Italy's 19 regions to have an independent local administration. Many Sicilians now think it has been a mistake.

Communications with Rome's central government were slow before Since the "region" came into being the new local administration, another twist in the bureaucratic snarl, provides more delays

For centures the "land of tomorrow" where nothing was ever done the day it was thought of, Palermitani say Sicily now has become the "land of the day after tomorrow"

Drive carefully tomorrow—and be especially careful during next week's final Christmas shopping days.

Older folks are pretending, as usual, that their Christmas activities are "just for the children"—but in their hearts they know better.

Progress of 45 Years In Aviation

MARVELOUS material progress has been made along many lines within the past half century—but in none other to such amazing extent as in the field of aviation, which has had just 45 years to grow from feeble infancy to its present world encircling stature.

This week marks the 45th anniversary of the Wright brothers brief successful flight at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina—a feat which attracted little attention immediately thereafter but which soon became recognized as the initial venture in what had theretofore been regarded as a subject for fiction rather than fact.

Both of the Wright brothers have passed from life, but their place in history is assured, and it is noteworthy that their original plane has now been returned from England, where it had been for 28 years, and is now permanently housed in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington.

Aviation has grown fantastically from the experimental stages that followed the start made by Wilbur and Orville Wright, and much credit goes to those who built upon the foundation they laid.

Looking back the 45 years since that crude craft rose a few feet in the air and traveled 120 feet before again touching ground, it is difficult to realize that the speed of sound has been exceeded by some planes—and it is even more difficult to imagine what the future may bring in aerial navigation . . . for the constructive purposes of peace or the destructive uses of war.

Filibuster Makes Majority Helpless

"NO BILL on earth can pass the Senate if half a dozen senators are enough against it to filibuster," says Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. Theoretically the Senate has a cloture rule, whereby debate can be shut off and a vote forced. Practically the rule is worth nothing at all, since it does not apply to a motion to adopt cloture. That can be debated indefinitely. Three or four senators can, if their voices hold out, talk till the end of time, or until their opponents surrender and withdraw the proposed legislation.

Some may think these filibusterers would run out of something to say. Why should they? They do not have to talk about the proposed bill. They can talk on anything. Huey Long, trying to kill a Senate bill, spent some time telling how to make "pot likker." A senator can read from the Bible or the census reports. He can even rest his voice by sending the book up to the desk and making the Senate clerk read it, while he still technically keeps the floor.

Some day, as Senator Vandenberg says, a national emergency will require immediate legislation. Half a dozen obstinate senators or half a dozen under the domination of a foreign power could block action.

Senators should decide which they value more, the public welfare or the privilege of killing bills they dislike.

Soft Coal Supply Exceeds Demand

AN ODDITY in supply and demand has been noted in the coal industry, with appearance that—for the present at least—supply is in excess of demand, although prices are still being maintained at a high level.

Late reports from the bureau of mines show 67 million tons of soft coal above ground; that a number of small mines have shut down and that larger concerns are concentrating on selling their output.

Only a few price cuts have been reported so far, but buyers seem reluctant to lay in stock in excess of current needs, and competitive fuels are also becoming a factor in the situation.

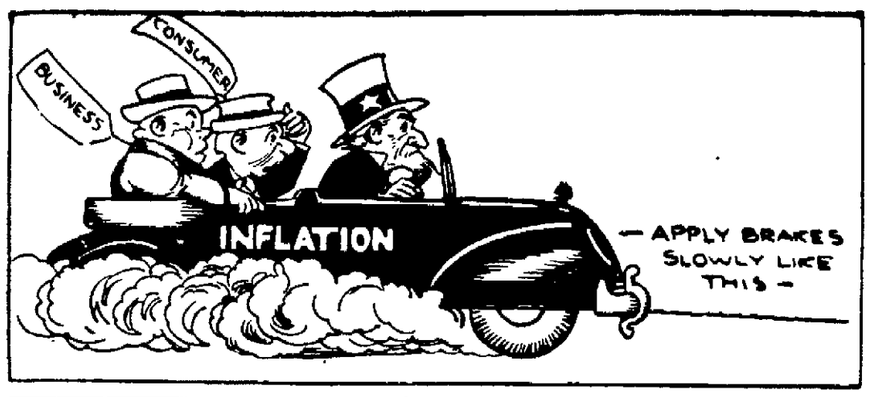
Recovery of coal production in Europe is seen as one reason for the present coal surplus in this country, as exports this year have been substantially under those of last year.

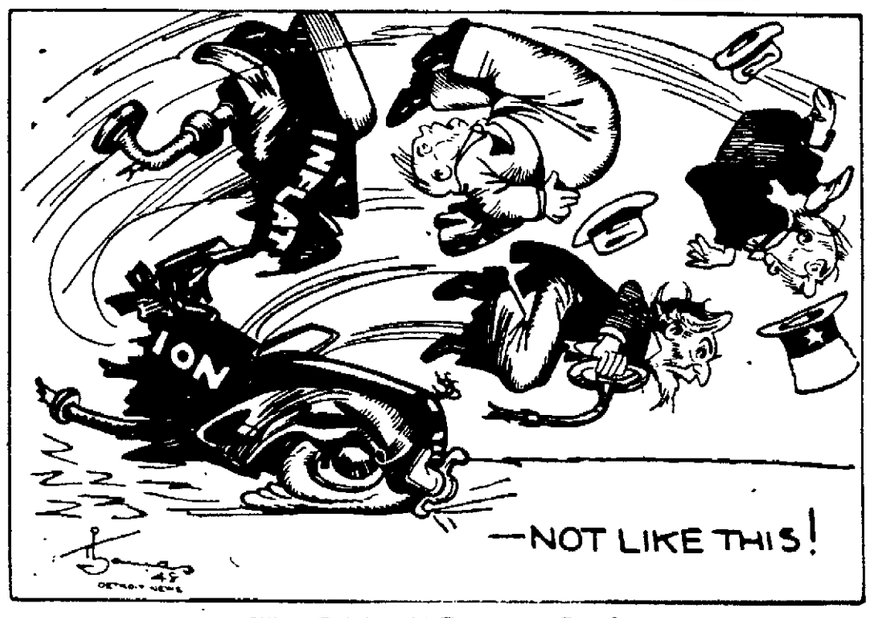
Expect Revision of T-H Law

MAJOR REVISION, rather than outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, is now being predicted in Washington, although it is expected that President Truman will ask for total junking of the law—to make good on campaign promises.

It will be remembered that the President campaigned strongly against restraints imposed by the Taft-Hartley law and that the Democratic platform also carried a repeal pledge.

Labor organization leaders are expected to make an effort to hold the administration and incoming Congress to these promises, but impression among many House and Senate members is that a compromise will be worked out.





When Driving At Dangerous Speed.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Committee Has Justified Its Existence

THE HOUSE committee on un-American activities has been one of the most durable of our government's agencies. Under former Congressman Dies and, later, under Congressman Thomas, it weathered heavy storms.

Two Presidents have attacked it. Mrs. Roosevelt has persistently denounced it. Powerful newspapers have called for its abolition.

A small group of congressmen has brought every means to bear against it. The department of justice has not been friendly. But over and over it has been confirmed by overwhelming bi-partisan House votes and more and more money has been given for its work.

Now it would seem that the committee can survive the indictment of its chairman, many confessed mistakes in procedure and a bewildering election upset. Such consistent strength must have a deep and solid basis.

Congressmen do not vote in such great majorities for things which are not heavily supported at home. The American people have really wanted this committee, despite the enemies it has made.

This public support of the committee, no doubt, is because of our convictions as Americans that we have a way of life which can be undermined and endangered by types of propaganda and undercover activities inspired from abroad.

And that while there is no disposition to curtail freedom of speech and of the press, it is the duty of government to expose and outlaw activities genuinely inimical to our institutions. The additional function exercised by the committee in investigating the executive branch of the government, while incidental to the discovery of un-American activities, centers in an established right of Congress to determine how public money is being spent.

In the Chambers-Hiss case, the two functions mentioned above are united. Chambers represented a subversive, alien movement. Hiss was a member of the government. And if the allegations of Chambers are true, the committee has not only exposed a subversive movement of great importance but it has shown that the executive department not only employed improper personnel, but in its law enforcement functions failed to discover and deal with a dangerous subversive movement.

* * *

Room for Improvement.

THE President in his denunciation of the un-American activities committee has risked a flat defeat at the very opening of the new Congress. For by any calculation there are enough votes to reject any effort to abolish it.

Perhaps the best course the President and his leaders can take is to accept the inevitable and then show how much better they can do the job.

If it is procedure which has been defective, let the new Democratic Congress set up something better. There is room for improvement, but no constructive suggestions have been made. Here is a real challenge and opportunity for the critics.

The President has not helped himself by his reckless charges of portisanship. The committee has unearthed enough to create a profound distrust in our state department.

The Chambers revelations are serious. It may be true that the secret documents will not prove to have vitally affected our safety. Anyone who has served in the policy-making ranges of the state department knows that reams of rubbish come in marked "confidential," and that much of this is no secret to newspapermen.

But the fact that documents were secretly handed out to an agent of a foreign government reveals a deplorable state of affairs in the very nerve center of government.

A conviction exists in the minds of a great many members of Congress that there is a great deal more to come. The relations between Chambers and Hiss have not been cleared up. Nor has it become clear that the disclosures so far have covered all those who were implicated in the espionage There may be herrings other than red ones yet to be dragged to the light.

Washington Calling

Share Through CARE

By MARQUIS CHILDS

OKLAHOMA CITY—In Charles Dickens' immortal "Christmas Carol" the miserly and embittered Scrooge was made, if it were possible, more bitter and more mean by the jollity and gaiety that go with Christmas. When his poor but warm-hearted nephew came to wish him well on Christmas eve, Scrooge delivered himself a blast meant to wither all good will.

"'Merry Christmas!' said Scrooge. 'Out upon Merry Christmas! What's Christmas time to you but a time for paying bills without money; a time for finding yourself a year older, but not an hour richer? A time for balancing your books and having every item in 'em through a round dozen of months presented dead against you?

"If I could work my will," said Scrooge indignantly, "every idiot who goes about with 'Merry Christmas' on his lips should be boiled with his own pudding and buried with a stake of holly through his heart. He should."

Scrooge's thrust about paying bills without money strikes home in this year of inflation.

It sometimes seems that the spirit of Christmas is more and more corrupted by lavish giving and overlavish observance. To find the money to pay the bills makes Scrooges out of many.

But there is one gift that will bring a rich reward. It can mean a sense of sharing, of true giving such as is too often lost in the commercialization of exchanging expensive, and often useless presents.

For $10 you can send a CARE food package to a German child and thus participate in Gen. Lucius Clay's fund for German children in Berlin and almost everywhere else in western Germany outside the farming areas this will be the third Christmas of a peace that has meant hunger, cold and ruin.

Oh, of course, the Germans brought it on themselves, you can say. But the children had no part of that. They know as little about what called down the ruin and misery upon them as would children anywhere.

The currency reform in the western zone has meant new hardships for many. Nearly half the students in German universities have had to leave. The need is great in Austria. In France the continuing pinch of grave inflation causes acute suffering among millions. The countries in Europe where conditions are relatively normal for almost every citizen are still the exception rather than the rule.

* * *

May Mean Sacrifice.

UNFORTUNATELY, voluntary giving through CARE and other channels has greatly fallen off. There is a complacent assurance that the government, through the European co-operation administration, is seeing to all that. Add to this the fact of our own inflation, which makes us feel that we have nothing left over and indeed scarcely enough to go around.

But even if it means a real sacrifice, such a gift seems to me to be supremely important. That, after all, is the lesson of Scrooge. When the three spirits had wrought their transformation in Scrooge's character and he began to do all the generous things he had never done before, the joy was his; the deep abiding satisfaction was his.

Whatever its actual contribution to the welfare of Europe, voluntary giving by American citizens is one of the few links with that other world.

CARE is a slender bridge across the water. Ten dollars sent to CARE, Washington, D. C., will work magic in a European household. It will mean things like chocolate, honey, rice, raisins—things that most Europeans never see—besides substantial foods.

Sending the huge prize turkey around to the family of his poor clerk was the kind of joy and reward for Scrooge that we, in our time, could experience by sending a CARE package to a needy family in Europe.

Good Word for Senator Taft.

In the GOP wreckage, Senator Taft has preserved his character and his intellectual integrity, and those qualities may be made most useful in the next congress, as can the Ohioan's wide knowledge of public affairs.

The country is going to need a strong and searching opposition—a most wholesome thing in any government—and Senator Taft can contribute most valuable services to it.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Thoughts After Having a Heart Attack

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—The heart is a time-bomb. You carry it around in your chest. On still nights, in the dark, you can hear it ticking away.

Then one day, if you're one of about 30 per cent of the people, it seems to explode.

Maybe there's only a dull pain, or maybe it's a blinding pain, and then death or long months of lying quietly in bed.

The Public Health Service says heart disease is still the No. 1 killer, that 481,000 people died of it last year.

For years, as I've grown older, I've wondered how a man feels who's had a heart attack and recovered.

I've wondered what it did to him and to his thinking about himself. Then I found a man who had such an attack, a man of 44 who had been extremely active physically, one of my closest friends.

He told me how it had been for a couple of nights before:

There was a terrible feeling, like indigestion, not a sharp pain, just that dull feeling that sent him to the doctor.

The doctor took a cardiogram, a check on the heart. My friend asked him, dead-pan, when it was over:

"Well, what's the score?"

"It's a heart attack," the doctor said.

"How much time do I have?" my friend asked him.

"I don't know," the doctor said. "You may live 10 years, maybe 20, maybe till 65. I can't tell how your arteries are."

It was a terrible shock. I guess my friend had thought his arteries would be all right till he was 100. Anyone feels that way, I guess.

My friend's attack was mild. He could sit up in a chair most of the time and read. He told me:

"I looked out the window, day after day, and my whole life went before me. I thought: Suppose I die today or tomorrow. What difference does it make?

"I can't see where it makes much difference, except to my family. It wouldn't make much difference to me. I've lived my life. I know what being alive in the world is.

"I've tried to live it without hate or prejudice for any other human being. People to me have always been people. I've had no illusions about them. Some have been horrible. Some have been wonderful.

"I know that if enough of us act decently with all other human beings we may work out a civilized society. I think we can do that. I'm not sure we can.

"I've been married. I know what it means to subordinate some of your own ideas to someone else's so there can be peace within a home, at least.

"I've had children. I hope I've done a good job with them. I'll never know for sure, because they'll live longer than I.

"I can't solve anything myself. All I can do is contribute to the things I believe in. If I die tomorrow, or 30 years from now, that's all I can do.

"I know if I die today, I leave a job unfinished. I hand it to my children, just as my parents and my grandparents handed it on to me. I think it will be like that for a long, long time."

Summary of Week's Happenings

Cities Ask New Taxes As Costs Mount

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOCAL property taxes, which furnish American cities most of their income, totaled $4,468,000,000 in 1932, at the bottom of the depression. In flush 1946, they totaled only a trifle more—$4,904,000,000.

That indicates the plight of the nation's cities, says Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles. They are being starved for revenue by federal and state use of the sales tax and other "painless" collection taxes.

Bowron, retiring president of the American Municipal association, aired his beef before 500 mayors and other city officials from 41 states assembled in Washington. Cities must be permitted to seek new sources of revenue to meet soaring municipal costs, he said, or federal and state aid must be forthcoming in other ways.

Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison of New Orleans was elected new president of the association which pledged itself to fight for home rule for its 9,500 member cities.

Closer to the People.

City officials, Bowron said ruefully, get more taxpayers complaints than any other officials because they are closer to the people, and because most, if not all, of the hidden taxes have been pre-empted by the federal and state governments. He declared:

"Although cities receive a relatively insignificant part of the tax dollar, municipal revenue stands out like a sore thumb because we still must rely largely on property taxes."

Another factor aggravating the city's plight is the increasing number of tax-exempt property holders, such as the federal government, charitable foundations, universities and churches.

Several potential sources of local revenue have been dried up, municipal officials complain, by expanding federal excise taxes on night clubs, theaters, telephone services and many retail commodities.

Wartime migrations have increased city populations by 2,000,000 persons since 1940, while rural population has declined by the same amount.

Complex Problems.

Municipal problems are more complex now than ever before. More services must be provided at costs higher than ever before — services like low-cost housing, civilian defense, hospitalization and traffic controls.

City planners propose a more equitable revision of the tax revenues among state, cities and federal government.

At Home

Pay Boosts Coming Up.

CONGRESS will be asked next month to raise the pay of cabinet officers from $15,000 to $25,000 a year and to increase salaries of other top rank government officials. It may even be asked to boost the President's salary from $75,000 to $150,000 a year.

It's all part of a long range economy plan. The theory is that a laborer, even a glorified overworked one like the President of the United States, is worthy of his hire.

There has been considerable talk in Congress, particularly in the last year, about raising the President's salary as well as those of cabinet officers.

In addition to his $75,000 annual salary, the President now gets a $30,000 tax-free expense account.

* * *

Safety In the Sky.

Barring a bad crash in the next two weeks, American aviation will chalk up one of its safest years on record.

Domestic trunk lines look to a safety mark of 1.4 passenger fatalities for every 100 million passenger-miles, compared with 3.2 in 1947. The lowest rate ever achieved was 1.2 deaths in 1939 and again in 1946.

American-owned international airlines are headed for a passenger fatalities rate even lower — one death per 100 million passenger-miles, compared with about 1.2 last year.

The nation's feeder, or local service, airlines and the territorial airlines have gone through nearly 350 days of the year without a passenger death. Their traffic volume, however, constitutes only about two per cent of total domestic air travel.

* * *

Dixie's Education Plan.

Governors and educators from 14 Southern states have adopted the nation's first regional educational program. Under it the states will contribute to meet the entire South's top needs in college education.

The complex formula, derived after more than a year of study, will go to the state legislatures with the joint approval of the Southern Governor's Conference and the Southern Regional Council of Education.

The initial program will be restricted to medical, dental and veterinary training, with emphasis on more and better education for Negroes under the South's traditional pattern of racial segregation.

If state lawmakers authorize a recommended $1,736,000 for the first two years, the plan will be put into operation next fall.

* * *

China's Dark Outlook.

The United States, concentrating on securing a non-Communist western Europe, apparently is prepared to write off China as an almost certain loss.

The American attitude on the global tug-of-peace with the Communists does not appear to have been changed in any major respect by Madame Chiang Kai-shek's extraordinary mission to Washington.

Only a military miracle seems capable of putting the Nationalist regime in position to make an effective bid for American help in any way comparable to the money and supplies being poured into Europe.

Abroad

Bastogne Anniversary.

Four years ago next Wednesday, the German Ardennes offensive, last major effort of the Wehrmacht, was stymied at the town of Bastogne, There U. S. Brig. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe of the surrounded 101st Airborne Division answered "Nuts" to a German demand for surrender.

The word was a new one to Nazis, but its meaning became crystal clear.

The people of Bastogne have never forgotten the American soldiers nor the general's caustic retort. Their rebuilt town is planted with nut trees as a living reminder of the historic occasion.

Nor has the 101st Airborne forgotten Bastogne. This year to commemorate the fourth anniversary, the 101st Division Association, will drop bags of nuts on the outskirts of the town to help feed its people.

* * *

Christmas Pilgrimage.

Thousands of Christian pilgrims will be permitted to cross both Jewish and Arab battle lines in the traditional procession to Bethlehem this Christmas.

Safe passage was promised by Israeli troop commander, Col. Moshe Dayan and the commander of Transjordan's Arab Legion, Col. Abdullah El Tel. They agreed at a conference under auspices of Col. Roger Carleson, United Nations observer.

Last year Christmas caroling was almost drowned out by preparation for war. Only a handful of pilgrims took part in the Nativity celebrations, in contrast to 30,000 in 1946. They held services under the eyes of policemen armed with tommyguns.

Bethlehem, five miles south of Jerusalem, is in the Arab hands. So is the old walled city of Jerusalem. The first two miles of the pilgrims' route is through Jewish-held territory.

In Short

Christened: Britain's new prince as Charles Philip Arthur George of Edinburgh.

Farmer's Diary

From Helpful Reader

By CALVIN A. BYERS

MY FRIEND George is a curious, bespectacled chap whose work is merchandising. He hopes to buy a farm some day. His hearing leads him into strange places—he insists he has read this column from its beginning. Last week he sent me a fat envelope of clippings from his favorite Sunday newspaper, with the penciled scrawl, "Thot you might enjoy these."

The item were pertinent and I appreciated the thoughtfulness that prompted his sharing . . . let's look some of them over together, briefly.

* * *

PLANKTON, the microscopic plant or animal life that floats or swims weakly in the sea, may become the answer to the world's food problem. At Yacht Center, Wilmington, Calif., a white ship, the Valero I is equipped with cold lockers and completely equipped laboratories, ready to sail next spring with a crew of scientists from the Allan Hancock Foundation, University of Southern California, to find out and report possible uses of plankton as a food for livestock and human beings. During the last war, aviators were instructed, if forced down to catch plankton in special silk kerchiefs, in case they did not find fish. Unrefined plankton is "gooey," unpalatable stuff, but its vitamin and protein is equivalent to that of shrimp. Perhaps some day we'll all dote on plankton pudding, plankton puree, or plankton pie!

THOS. D. CAMPBELL, a wheat specialist who owns a 65,000 acre farm near Hardin, Montana, became a brigadier general of United States Air Force in Africa. He reports that with modern methods, wheat production in Africa could be doubled in from three to five years. The increase would supply most of Europe's need for imports.

* * *

YOU CAN'T starve a pheasant in Florida," is the claim of a Wauchula pheasant fancier who requests money from the state for a pheasant hatchery. He thinks Florida may soon rival South Dakota as a hunting ground for pheasants and wild turkeys. "They do well in swamps, eat wild grasses and wild grass seeds and love chickweed, which grows wild."

ABOUT 30,000 boys and girls saved two million gallons of tractor fuel last year in the 4-H tractor-maintenance program and contest, according to Charles H. Wagner of American Oil company. The contest was sponsored by several oil companies. If all farmers would follow the lead of these boys and girls, it is estimated there would be fuel enough for 200,000 more tractors.

Dave Boone Says:

WITH the sale of everything but faith being promoted by the spending of millions of dollars for Christmas-season illuminations, it's hard to understand why the churches don't light up nightly during Yuletide.

* * *

What proclaims the Christmas message more wonderfully than brilliantly lighted church and cathedral windows? Yet they remain dark, except during church services, while the neon lights send forth a blaze for comparatively inconsequential things all around them.

* * *

The cost of the lighting bills will probably be given as an excuse. But most any church too hard up to light its windows, as the Star of Bethlehem lit the way for the shepherds, could raise the money by a couple of extra collections.

* * *

I think every churchgoer would like to see his church lighted in all its beauty during Christmas week and would be glad to chip in.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Tuesday, Dec. 18, 1928.

City officials announced purchase of new automobile to be used as squad car by police department.

Thirty-two temporary employes were added to post office force to handle pre-Christmas rush of mail.

Board of Education decided to curtail expense of graduation by adopting standard emblem for rings and pins.

Ezra McFarland, 59, Monroe township farmer, died.

Boy Scout orchestra provided program at Rotary club meeting, with Dale Ward presiding.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Foster, 9 Johns avenue.

Bert C. Nichols was named as manager of Hale Sturges Printing company, succeeding Virgil Herring, resigned.

Poor Giovanni! Legally Declared Dead Yet Compelled to Pay Taxes

NEW YORK—(AP)—The poor man's philosopher views the news:

A symbol of our confused times is Giovanni Villa, the living dead man of Palermo, Sicily.

Poor Giovanni at 35 is a prime example of how a man can actually be strangled by the red tape of government. Through some mishap he was legally declared dead in 1944 in a small village he never had visited.

For four years Giovanni has waged a one-man campaign to convince the government it was wrong. But red tape is hard to reverse, in sunny Sicily as elsewhere.

With a fine consistency, the government not only has refused to concede Giovanni's existence. It has also declined to register his daughter, born recently, on the medically justifiable grounds that "dead men can't father children."

The only consolation Giovanni has is that the tax collector has graciously consented to let him continue to pay his tax bills.

But it would seem the "Ghost Man of Palermo" is overlooking a sure bet to become one of mankind's lasting heroes. Instead of continuing servilely to pay taxes to support an administration that lists him as dead, Giovanni should strike an historic blow against all government nonsense.

Why couldn't Giovanni go to the Palermo city hall some morning with a machine gun and destroy the whole crew? He couldn't very well be punished, as a man legally dead and held incapable of fatherhood could hardly be charged with murder.

What an opportunity! Happy Giovanni! He could go on placidly wiping out administration after administration until some scared official agreed to bring him back to life and grant him a pension the rest of his days.

The poor people would build him a monument, patterned after Hercules slaying the nine-headed Hydra, and crown it forever with flowers.

But what does Giovanni do? He merely keeps on paying taxes. So far has Sicily, home of the vengeance vendetta, fallen from its golden days.

Two California airport employes have been forced down in their third attempt to break the 1939 endurance record of 726 hours aloft.

They stayed up 568 hours, 47 minutes in their latest effort and flew some 51,000 miles.

Some men will do anything to find an airtight excuse for staying out nights.

A London newspaper says that eight of every ten horses sold in Britain today ends up on a steak platter in a black market restaurant.

The paper dolefully observes that some of the island's finest draft breeds may be eaten out of existence.

There is an old prejudice in America against consuming man's second best friend. But in Europe, particularly France, horseflesh is esteemed by many as a delicacy. It is rich and flavorful. Doctors often prescribe it for victims of anemia.

But here, except in cases where shady operators sometimes blend faithful Dobbin into beef hamburger, wornout horses usually wind up on a zoo bill of fare or in canned dog food.

One man once found a double military use for the horse, employing him as both mount and menu. The cavalry troops of Genghis Khan, 13th century Asiatic conqueror, customarily on long marches opened the veins of their ponies and drank their blood when food supplies were short.

It's a good argument for "C" rations.

Time Magazine's Choice of Staff Deprives It of Right to Criticize

MAN KILLING TIME

The record shows Whittaker Chambers was a communist agent involved in espionage. He kept espionage evidence hidden for a decade, thus making it impossible to prosecute those guilty of the crime under the espionage law—because of the 3-year statute of limitations.

Chambers admitted he lied when he testified before a Congressional committee that he lacked documentary evidence to support his revelation of Communist espionage. That's obvious perjury.

Yet a man with that sordid record was a senior Time editor since 1939! That fact alone deprives Time of the privilege of criticizing anybody.

The Luce mag pompously declares columnists should show "a greater sense of responsibility in deciding what is legitimate public news and what is mere trouble-making gossip" ... And who is to decide what is mere trouble-making gossip and what is legitimate public news—Time's Court of Anonymous Nobodies?

This reporter has more respect for the judgment of one of our most eminent journalists — Joseph Pulitzer. He wrote: "Now about sensationalism. Some people try to make you believe that a newspaper should not devote its space to long and dramatic accounts of murders, political corruption, frauds, graft, divorces. Say what you will, I tell you they are wrong."

And the hypocritical irony of it! In a recent issue Time listed the subjects used to concoct the mag. Time mentioned various national and international topics, concluding with "major crime and what Hollywoodette is engaged to 'marry' whose husband."

But when a columnist uses the same melange of domestic and international news plus Broadway and Hollywood trivia —Time sneers and jeers and leers.

Luce periodicals should be the last to scorn any newspaperman —or offer journalistic counsel. If those mags are eager to improve journalism, they can start by editing themselves.

How they can have the audacity to rap others is difficult to savvy. It is an illustration of almost unbelievable hypocrisy and abject deceit. A Luce mag once planted wet kisses on Mussolini's ugly face —and offered words of praise for Fascism!

Proof? Read the July (1934) issue of Fortune and frow up.

Whenever we come across yappy attacks in the Il Luce empire—we recall Charles A. Dana's wonderful opinion: "Whenever in the newspaper profession a man rises up who is original, strong, bold enough to make his opinions a matter of consequence to the public, there will be personal journalism. Impersonal journalism is conducted by individuals whose views are of no interest and of no consequence to anybody!"

County Gets $490,220 In Tax Funds

Auditor Allocates Money

Subdivisions Share Revenue

Nearly a half-million dollars in tax money today was on its way to the various subdivisions in Richland county, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe announced. He said the sum represents the final distribution of tax monies for the year.

The checks totaled $490,220. Of that amount, $453,844 was received in the last half personal tax collection, while $29,176 was local government money and $7,200 consisted of gasoline excise tax money for townships.

The City of Mansfield received $105,363 in personal property tax money and $22,503 in local government money. Of the property tax money $85,347 goes into the general fund and $20,016 into other funds. Local government money goes into the general fund.

The City of Shelby received $21,265 in personal property taxes, $15,713 of it for the general fund and $5,552 for other funds. Also received was $3,635 in local government money.

$190,494 TO SCHOOLS

Going to Mansfield City schools was $190,494 of personal property tax money, with $134,340 marked for the general fund and the balance, $56,154, for the bond retirement fund.

Shelby schools received $28,524 for the general fund and $11,465 for the bond retirement fund.

Madison schools received $14,462 in personal property tax money. Madison township received $5,171 in personal taxes, $577 in local government money, and $400 in gasoline tax money.

The $7,200 gasoline excise tax money for the townships was divided 18 ways, with each receiving $400. It was this year's 10th distribution.

In addition, the townships received the following totals in last-half personal taxes and in local government monies:

Bloominggrove, $156; Butler, $553; Cass, $552; Franklin, $126; Perry, $365; Plymouth, $979; Jefferson, 655; Sandusky, $387; Sharon, $497; Springfield, $719; Troy, $714; Washington, $732; Weller, $758; Worthington, $519; Mifflin, $217; Monroe, 323; and Jackson, $140.

Personal property tax monies and local government money totals to villages include Bellville, $512; Butler, $509; Lexington, $1,357 (larger because of the soy bean plant); Lucas, $449; Plymouth, $2,161 (more industries); and Shiloh, $637.

The distribution of personal property taxes for other school district include:

Bellville, $1,239; Butler, $418; Lexington, $2,033; Lucas, $743; Sharon, $70; Shiloh, $363; Springfield, $804; Union, $2,252; and Mifflin, $519.

6 Traffic Violators Fined $85

Shelby Driver Assessed $50

Six traffic violators were fined a total of $85 and costs in municipal court this morning.

James Greenwood, Shelby, was fined $50 and costs for having physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Walter Hoffman, 476 Clifton boulevard, paid $10 and costs for unsafe operation. He had pleaded innocent to the charge.

Ruth Agnes Clutter, Crestline, was fined $10 and costs for speeding. Clyde C. Stanford, Mt. Vernon, and Charley Thompson, Akron, each paid $5 and costs for crossing a yellow line.

Floyd C. West, 1062 Olivesburg road, was fined $5 and costs for failure to have a tail light.

Get Checks At Party

120 At Gorman-Rupp Share Funds

About 120 Gorman-Rupp employes received checks at the company's annual Christmas dinner party last night, bringing their profit-sharing participation to $575 for 1948. Checks covering the first half of the year were distributed June 30. Christmas savings checks, which are a part of the program, were distributed Dec. 1.

Last night's party at the Richland Recreation Center was the 14th annual affair held by the company for employes, their wives, husbands or escorts. A variety program of stunts was presented by groups of employes. Wayne Pickworth acted as master of ceremonies. Prizes were awarded to a number of contest winners.

In addition to the distribution of profit-sharing checks, Gorman-Rupp employes eligible for the pension trust plan accumulated retirement benefits in the form of insurance or annuities at a cost to the company of about $415 per participating employe, J. C. Gorman, company president, stated.

More than one-half of all employes are participating in the pension trust benefits to which they are eligible upon completion of five years' service. The company pays all costs of this plan.

Gifts were exchanged at the party, the company presenting wives and women employes with stainless steel cooking sets, and employes, in turn, presented gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Gorman and Mr. and Mrs. Rupp.

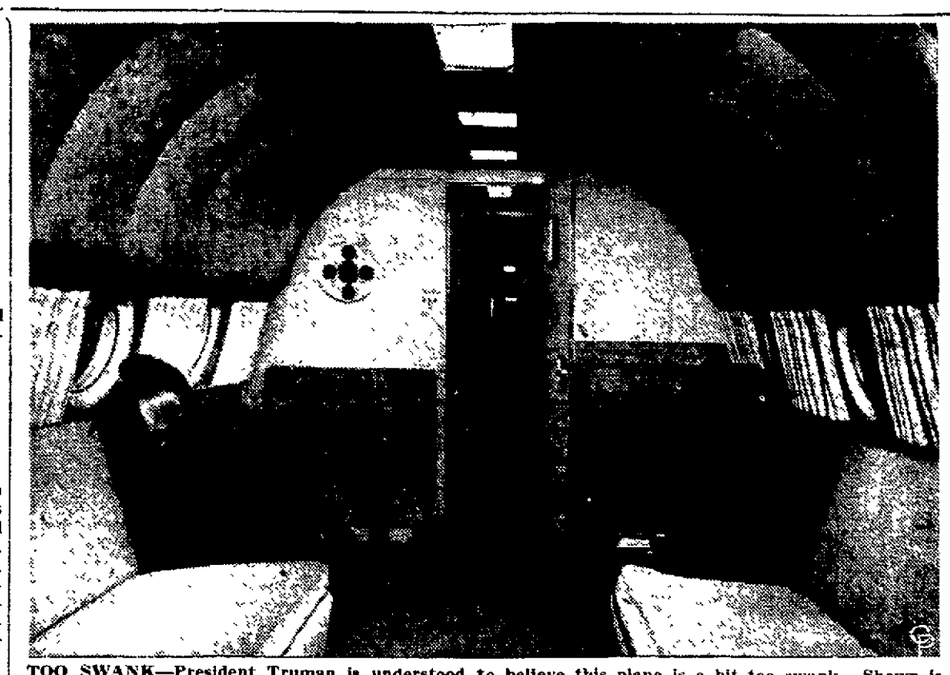
Brief Illness Proves Fatal

Mrs. Mary Brown, 32, wife of James Brown of 248 North Diamond street, died Friday afternoon at Madison hospital following a two-day illness.

Mrs. Brown was born in New Haven, Ky., in 1916 and came to Mansfield six years ago.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sisters, Miss Marie and Miss Mildred Robinson, and one brother, Frank Robinson, all of Louisville, Ky.

The body is at the Geiger funeral home where arrangements are incomplete.



TOO SWANK—President Truman is understood to believe this plane is a bit too swank. Shown is the interior of a U. S. Air Force Constellation reportedly fixed up for "President Dewey," before the election. Considerable mystery surrounded the plane, which is at Mitchel field, Long Island, N. Y., before Air Force spokesmen said it was the first of ten being bought to modernize the Air Transport Command. It holds 30 passengers.

Workers Contribute $226 to Aid Family

Christmas cheer continues to invade the home of Floyd McClain in Little Washington where his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McClain and five small children took refuge two weeks ago following a fire which destroyed their home on Cairns road.

The latest contributions for the homeless family include a cash donation of $226.18 from employes of the Westinghouse, a baby carriage which will be needed soon with the birth of the R. H. McClain's sixth child, and an extra supply of bedding.

When members of the cording department at the Westinghouse decided to take up a collection for the McClains, they thought the fund might amount to $50. But word of the collection grew, and many workers contributed. Charles Peters and Edward Griffon started the project.

When fire razed the McClain home on Dec. 2 everything the family owned except the clothes they wore was destroyed. But neighbors and friends helped, and now the McClains have enough to start housekeeping again as soon as they can find a home.

Yesterday they looked at a place in Ontario. Mrs. McClain said they had decided to purchase another home if possible, using the little money left from their insurance to make a down payment.

In any case, the family's small children will have their Santa Claus Christmas eve.

4 Sentenced After Raid

Three women and one man, arrested last night in a raid on a house of prostitution on North Franklin avenue, were sentenced to the workhouse today by Judge H. H. Schettler in municipal court.

The four persons gave their address as 216 North Franklin avenue. They pleaded guilty to charges.

Oscar Kent, 42, was sentenced to 90 days for keeping a house of prostitution; Jean Smith, 29, was given 60 days for soliciting for immoral purposes; Annabelle Murphy, 36, and Louis Baldwin each were given 30 days for residing in a house of prostitution.

Prowlers Get Tools, Battery

Carl L. Baker reported to the sheriff's office yesterday the office of Joyland, dance hall on the Springmill-Lexington road, had been broken into and entered sometime between the night of Dec. 15 and yesterday morning. Baker had been living on the property in the absence of the owner.

He told deputies the door of the office had been forced and reported missing a one-man saw, four hand saws, two wrecking bars, one claw hammer, a box of nails, and a car battery and radio.

Rites Arranged For Rice Infant

Linda Ann Rice, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Rice, 277 West Dickson avenue, died at General hospital shortly after birth Friday afternoon.

Besides the parents, the child is survived by grandparents, Mrs. Maude Cairns and Mr. and Mrs. Albe H. Rice.

Graveside services were to be held today at 3:30 p. m. at the Mansfield cemetery by Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor of the St. Mark's Lutheran church. Arrangements are in charge of the Finefrock funeral home.

School Burglar Shatters Door

Clarence Swaidner, custodian of Johnny Appleseed junior high school, reported to police this morning entrance had been gained into the school during the night by breaking out the glass of a door on the south side of the building.

The glass had been broken with a large rock. A search of the school revealed nothing missing.

Asks Course In Driving

The Johnny Appleseed P-TA has added its endorsement to the proposal for a safe driving course at Senior high school.

The action was taken at a meeting Thursday night following a talk by W. G. Schultz, chairman of the safety committee.

He cited three major causes of traffic accidents which might be eliminated through such a course; ignorance of traffic laws, inefficiency in operation and maintenance of a car, and intolerance or lack of good manners and consideration for others. Schultz recommended the teaching to children of the practical things about a car.

Schultz and Rev. Matthew G. Madden were introduced by Albert Benson, president of the association.

Rev. Madden told the story of "The Other Wise Man," by Henry VanDyke, and the ninth grade girls' glee club of the school sang five Christmas songs, directed by Miss Ellena Percy.

Following the program, the group adjourned to the band room where a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Cecil Cramer and her committee.

Soldier Hurt In Auto Crash

Robert Baker, 19-year-old soldier, who is visiting at 700 Park avenue east, suffered injuries to his right knee and mouth in a traffic accident which resulted in damage to three cars. The accident occurred on West Fourth street near Bowman street at 2:30 a. m. today.

A car driven by Baker ran into a parked car owned by Paul Hoffman of 448 Ashland road, police said. Hoffman's car then collided with the rear of a car parked in front of it owned by John E. Meeting of 195 West Fourth street.

Baker told police he fell asleep at the wheel. The front of Baker's car, the front and rear of Hoffman's car, and the rear of Meeting's car were damaged.

Death Takes Mrs. Bell, 75

Mrs. Georgia M. Bell, 75, of 5569 West Fourth street, widow of Thomas M. Bell, former Mansfield chief of police, died at Madison hospital last night following an illness of two weeks.

Mrs. Bell was born in Lexington, Aug. 10, 1873 and had lived in Mansfield for the past 50 years.

She was a member of the United Presbyterian church, a member and past officer of the auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, and a member of Mary B. Mitchell Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Frank Hoeppner and Mrs. W. K. Johnson, both of Mansfield, a son, Robert F. Bell of Norwalk; a grandson, Richard T. Hoeppner of Mansfield; a niece, Mrs. R. C. Dickson, and a half-sister, Mrs. A. L. Hitchcock of Orange, Calif.

Rev. Charles Shook, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, will conduct funeral services at the Jones Memorial at 2 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home until time of services.

Cars Crash North of City

The occupants of two automobiles escaped injury in a traffic accident which caused damage to one car early this morning. The accident occurred at 3:45 a. m., one mile north of State Route 96 on Bowman street road.

Sheriff's deputies said a car driven by Kenneth Brown of North Fairfield, who was traveling north, struck the rear of a car driven by Roy Roberts of Shiloh which had gone off the road into a ditch.

The right side of Brown's car was damaged and the back fender was torn off. No one was hurt in the accident.

Roberts told sheriff's deputies he tried to turn around in the road and the front end of his car went into the ditch and the back end of the car remained on the road. He said the car was stuck and he couldn't move it.

According to Roberts, another car stopped with the lights on. Brown said he was blinded by the lights of this car and hit the car in the ditch.

The youths left the scene immediately after the accident, deputies said.

SANTA'S BUSY—

Mansfield's perennial Santa Claus, Frank Haman, has started on his rounds of entertaining the city's school and church pupils. For the 21st year, Haman has donned his red and white suit, his snowy beard and started out to make Christmas a happier, jollier occasion for many of the city's youngsters. Yesterday, he visited Woodville, West Fifth and Prospect schools and plans to make an entire day of it tomorrow at the city's churches. Haman will continue his merry rounds all next week.

DONKEY BUSINESS

There's a "donkey" in the courthouse. His face is painted in the left wall on the second floor just outside the commissioner's office which, incidentally will be under Democratic control, come January. The face was painted when the WPA did some work and painting at the courthouse. About 14 years ago, one of the painters (politics unknown) "just happened to paint in the donkey face," courthouse employes said. Incidentally, it's easy to miss seeing the face. One fellow has been over there 18 months and never noticed it until it was pointed out yesterday.

House Prowler Eludes Pursuit

Robert Hooks of 550 Bowman street reported to police early this morning he saw a man leaving the home of Lloyd Erickson, 141 Washington avenue, after apparently breaking into the home.

Hooks said he was taking his girl companion, who lives at the Erickson residence, home when he saw the man leaving. He told police they arrived at the home at about 2:05 a. m. this morning. He said that he unsuccessfully chased the man.

Police said one of the drawers in the buffet in the dining room had been rifled, but nothing was missing.

State Holstein Expert to Speak

George Nichols, of Wooster, state field man for the Ohio Holstein Breeders' association, will speak at a meeting here Monday of Richland County Holstein breeders.

An attempt will be made to organize a Richland County Holstein Breeders association. The meeting will be held at 8:15 p. m. in the court of appeals room in the courthouse.

Smoldering Paper Brings Fire Calls

Wallpaper smoldering around chimney holes caused firemen from No. 2 station to be called to two Mansfield homes yesterday afternoon. Damage was slight in both cases, firemen said.

At 1:56 p. m. firemen answered a call to the home of E. C. Thompson, 173 Vale avenue, where wallpaper was smoldering. They went to the home of Louis Buckingham, 33 Harmon avenue, at 4:56 p. m. where an identical situation was found.

8,000 At Opening

Close to 8,000 persons, by actual count, streamed through the new Sternbaum complete food mart at Lexington avenue and Cook road yesterday for the grand opening.

Carl Sternbaum, owner, called the opening "one of the finest I've ever seen."

Some 40 floral pieces, presented by manufacturers, food brokers and others decorated the store. About 40 persons were on hand when the doors opened at 8 a. m.

A jam developed about 3:30 p. m., and continued until about 10 p. m., Sternbaum said.

The "magic eye" doors which swing open automatically when someone appears near the doorway were a big attraction.

4 Mansfielders Sing In Choir

Four Mansfielders are members of the Ashland college A cappella choir which will be heard Christmas day over WATG and the standard FM network in a two-hour program of yuletide music from 3 to 5 p. m.

Entitled "Our Christmas Greetings To You" such music as "Ave Maria," "Christ of the Snow," and "Praise God, Extoll Him," will make up the bulk of the concert program.

Mansfield members of the choir include Charles Lewis, 358 Ohio street; Carl Thrush, 345 Fair street; Robert Frere, 194 Taylor road, and Miss Violet Chokreff, Mansfield, R. D. 1.

The choir is under the direction of Dr. Louis A. Pete.

Jaycees Start Grading Work On Fairground Skating Pond

The Junior Chamber of Commerce began work today on a skating rink at the Fairgrounds.

A bulldozer, donated by R. F. Schmitt, is doing the heavy work of moving dirt for the pool, and members of the Jaycees, armed with spades, are leveling the dirt in the pool bed.

Robert Murphy, president of the Jaycees, said the job could be completed in one day if enough volunteer workers could be obtained.

The pool will be oval-shaped, about 100 by 150 feet. It will contain less than a foot of water, and is expected to be ready for skating as soon as the mercury goes below 10 degrees.

Money from the project is coming from the proceeds of the monthly shows "The Best Is Yet to Come." The next show will be presented Tuesday at the Johnny Appleseed Junior high school auditorium.

See Threat In Proposed Reich Force

'Black Reichswehr' Again Crops Up

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(INS Foreign Director)

The traditionally sinister term "Black Reichswehr" has cropped up again in connection with persistent reports that Soviet Russia plans to withdraw her occupations forces from Germany and create a separate eastern state controlled by German police.

This projected police force of perhaps a quarter of a million men in being referred to as the 1948 equivalent of the Black Reichswehr."

If there ever was a title that connoted a war of revenge it is that one. And it seems certain to have an appeal for young men who have escaped active service in both the first and second world wars.

For it embodies the mystery and secrecy beloved of the German temperament and denotes a hidden strength and mastery attractive to a still virile youthful population whom defeat has stripped of all military glory and the display of power which always have been attractive to the German temperament.

The "Black Reichswehr" was a miracle and marvel of organization after the first world war. Perhaps more than anything else it gave Adolf Hitler the ready made nucleus of the magnificent fighting force that he created out of what appeared on the surface to be merely an undisciplined gang of political rabble-rousers.

The original leaders of the "Black Reichswehr" were the junkers generals, faithful disciples of the Von Clausewitz theory that a German defeat is merely a milestone on the road to eventual world conquest.

Its members moved with utmost stealth. Drills were held in secret and what began as a crowd of sunburned youths out for a hiking holiday wound up as back-breaking maneuvers in some hidden country dell.

Reports of the new "Black Reichswehr" seem to bear out the theory that the Russians themselves have despaired of creating an all-German state and are going to leave the eastern Reich in German hands.

With a thoroughly-indoctrinated police force of 250,000, the communists will be able to forge a strong and resurgent eastern Germany. From their point of view, it will be a buffer against alleged "western imperialism." It could also, of course, be used as a "persuasive" if not actually aggressive lever.

Wife Asks Acquittal In Husband's Death

MARBURG, Germany —(INS)— A U. S. tribunal studied today a defense motion to acquit attractive Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo, charged with killing her GI husband and boasting "I am not sorry."

The bold move for acquittal was lodged by defense attorney Stanley Gaines, of Dos' claimed that the prosecution had failed to prove its charge of "malice aforethought, felonious intent or premeditation" against the 23-year old brunette widow from Malden, Mass.

Red Fanatics Shoot to Kill As Czechs Flee Persecution

REGENSBURG, GERMANY,— (AP)—Fanatical communists who often shoot without warning are reported killing Czechs who try to flee their Red-ruled country.

This report comes from anti-communists Czech refugees who succeeded in escaping to Germany. They say the Czechs are arming factory workers known to be communist zealots and adding them to the heavy guard thrown up along the Czech-German border.

These fanatics—called "Militionists"—are even tougher than the regular army and police border guards, the refugees say.

"They shoot pitilessly," said one Czech who had just run the gantlet into Germany. "Often they shoot without warning."

With these guards patrolling a strip 10 miles wide along the Czech frontier, it is getting harder and riskier every day to get across that border, refugees say.

They estimate as many as 15,000 have been caught trying it and have been thrown into prison. They believe less than 40 per cent of those who try to escape ever get through.

Refugees blame spies among their ranks for some of the increasing difficulty of escape from Czechoslovakia.

U. S. army and international refugee organization officials confirm their claims that dozens of communist agents have been found in the camps where the refugees are housed under IRO care.

These spies report back to Czechoslovakia how the refugees get out. They also reveal the identity of the fugitives. This exposes them to trial in absentia for their flight. Refugees fear it also subjects their relatives to persecution.

The U. S. army's recent arrest of 20 suspected members of a Czech spy ring may help curb these activities.

Until then, refugees complained spies were being turned free even after they were exposed. U. S. military government court officials admitted they had no laws under which they could jail Czechs for spying on fellow Czechs—unless they also spied on U. S. military forces.

Despite the growing danger, the Czechs still are streaming across the border. At least 35 arrive in the American zone of Germany every day. The total has passed 9,000 since the communists seized power in Czechoslovakia last February.

Would Cut Assistance

NEW YORK —(AP)— Sen. Robert A. Taft yesterday predicted that American aid to Europe could be reduced in the 1950 fiscal year.

The Ohio Republican tolds newsmen on his return from Europe aboard the liner America that substantial reductions could be made in the Economic Cooperation Administration program in its third year.

In a prepared statement he said the ECA had improved economic conditions in Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Holland and France—the five countries he visited in his 26-day tour.

Taft said he "found those who are closest to the Berlin situation do not expect any war to result from it," adding he "found the same opinion among the people of the western European nations, though there is much apprehension."

Terming the air lift aid to Berlin "a most impressive operation," the senator said Gen Lucius Clay, American military governor, "has done a magnificient job in his dealings with the Russians and he is entitled to the whole-hearted support of the American people."

Farmers Cast Votes Today

The polls opened at 1 p. m today for the election of five supervisors to handle a soil conservation program for Richland county. Landowners, with three acres or more of land are eligible to vote. The polls close at 7 p. m.

Polling places include Shenandoah Grange hall, the township hall in Shelby, agriculture extension office in the courthouse Lucas school, and Bellville fire station.

Farmers will vote for five out of a group of 13 candidates. With the election completed, County Agent C. N. McGrew said he expected the program to get started by late winter or early spring.

Leadership School To Open Jan. 10

Sessions Sponsored By Church Groups

A leadership training school sponsored by the Richland County Council of Churches and Christian Agencies will open at the First Methodist church Jan. 10, Ralph Keil, newly-appointed dean of the school, announced.

Courses are being planned for children's division leaders, youth leaders, and adult leaders. Keil said background courses on methods of teaching would be offered with emphasis on public speaking and directing discussions.

The school will function six consecutive Monday nights from the opening date, and classes will last from 7:15 to 9:15 p. m. Leaders of all Richland county churches will be invited to participate in the courses.

The program was launched at a meeting of the leadership training committee Tuesday evening. In addition to Keil, the school's staff will include Miss Janet Sangree, religious education director of the First Presbyterian church, and John Linsenmayer, president of the Council of Religious Education. The committee appointed Miss Sangree registrar and Linsenmayer treasurer.

Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, pastor of the First Methodist church, granted the use of his church for the courses.

The leadership training committee will hold its next meeting Dec. 28 to make further plans for the school.

JAMES CRONIN

BUCYRUS — Police and Red Cross authorities continued their efforts today to locate relatives of James Cronin, 46, formerly employed in race horse stables in Marion, Delaware and Bucyrus. Mr. Cronin died Thursday at Oak Ridge sanitarium at Green Springs O., where he was taken this week following his release from Bucyrus City hospital. Tuberculosis caused his death.

Mr. Cronin had told hospital attaches he was a native of Chippewa Falls, Wis., but contact with Red Cross officials in that city revealed that he was unknown. Fingerprints also have been taken and will be checked with army records in an effort to locate relatives. The deceased man had told his physician he was a World War II veteran.

For the past few months he had lived at the Crawford county fairgrounds here, where he had assisted in caring for race horses stabled there. He formerly had worked for the Smart stables in Delaware and the McNamara stables in Marion.

The body is at the Lutz funeral home here.

★

MRS. GRACE SMITH

WILLARD— Mrs. Grace Smith, 73, wife of Donald C. Smith who was mayor here until 1947, died early today in her home at 316 Myrtle avenue following a year's illness.

Besides leaving her husband she is survived by a son, Harl of Sun Valley, Idaho, and a brother, William Gimby of Florida. She was born in Columbus but had lived here for 40 years and was a member of the Methodist church, Ladies Auxiliary of Railroad Engineers, the Women's Benefit association and the Emblem club.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Secor funeral home here.

★

MISS ELIZABETH M. POPHAM

FREDERICKTOWN — Services will be at 2 p. m. Monday at the Meredith funeral home here for Miss Elizabeth M. Popham, 79, who died Friday morning at her farm home four miles east of here where she had been born and spent her lifetime.

She leaves a sister, Miss Lille, at home, and a brother, Will of Fredericktown. Rev. Floyd Eckert, pastor of the Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Forest cemetery here.

★

WILLIAM A. STIFFLER

GALION—William A. Stiffler, 64, a retired brick mason, died last night in Bucyrus City hospital after a six-month illness.

He lived at 20½ South street in Galion.

A native of Morrow county, he lived most of his life in the Galion area. His wife, Estelle, died six years ago.

Friends may call after 7 p. m. today at the Snyder funeral home where services will be held Monday at 3 p. m. Rev. H. Leslie MacKay of the Church of the Nazarene will officiate. Burial will be in the Bloominggrove cemetery.

Surviving are two brothers, Earl of Galion and Guy of Crestline.

★

LOIS MARIE DIEHL

FREDERICKTOWN — Lois Marie Diehl seven-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Diehl, local residents, died yesterday in Mercy hospital at Mt. Vernon. Besides her parents she is survived by a sister, Jean Ann at home, and her grandparents.

Rites will be at 1:30 p. m. Monday in the Bollinger funeral home here with Rev. J. R. Kunze, Blooming Grove pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery here.

★

GLENN H. KOONS

BUCYRUS — Services will be held in Tiffin Monday for Glenn H Koons, 69, a former Bucyrian who died in Crile Veterans' hospital in Cleveland Friday.

Survivors include his father, Willis D. Koons, 93, Bucyrus real estate agent; two sons, Rev. Wade Koons of Carey and Charles of Sycamore; a daughter, Mrs Frances John of Columbus, and a sister, Inez Koons of Bucyrus.

Mr. Koons was a real estate agent in Tiffin for many years. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

Office to Close

The Mansfield Social Security office will close at noon, Dec. 24, to give employes a long holiday week-end, Edward P. Blonston, manager of the office, announced today.

The office will open at 9 a. m., its usual opening hour, Monday, Dec. 27.

Military Has It Easy

Full Brunt of War Hits Poorest Chinese

PEIPING, — (AP) — China has about 460,000,000 people. It is doubtful if more than 10,000,000 of them, counting soldiers and officials of all sorts, are actively involved in the civil war on both the communist and government sides.

The vast majority forms a great inarticulate mass which suffers from the war but which, for years to come, will remain almost ignorant of any political change.

Easily half this country's inhabitants live no better than they did centuries ago. In some remote sections life is about the same as it must have been two thousand or more years ago.

The farmer represents about 80 per cent of the population.

He lives and dies in conditions which, to most westerners, are unimaginably squalid, yet he has little desire for the worldly comforts of the big cities.

His main aim in life is to till his soil in humble peace and not be taxed too heavily.

He and his ancestors before him have suffered from the march of contending armies. Conscription, oppressive taxation, famine, flood and pestilence are his lot—yesterday, today and probably tomorrow. He suffers thus from the current war without participating.

Old-time foreign residents say the farmer probably is worse off today than he was 30 or 40 years ago.

In the "good old days" before 1937, for example, he might have had a kerosene lamp to light his mud-and-thatch hut. Today he cannot afford the fuel and must use a saucer of vegetable oil with a makeshift wick, after the fashion of thousands of years ago.

The farmer may have a small coal fire or charcoal brazier in his hut.

His home contains no books or papers. Even if he could afford them, he could not read them. He knows nothing of plumbing, radio, cars, or refrigerators.

He can only bear the brunt of a horrible civil war.

Radar Crews Land Planes On Airlift

Crestline Soldier In Essential Role

BERLIN—(AP)—A quite- spoken young Missourian at Berlin's big planes at the rate of one every three or four minutes, but he has never flown an aircraft.

Master Sgt. Richard O. Wilson of Kansas City is in charge of one of the radar-controlled approach crews—the men who "talk" the airlift plans down to the landing field when weather makes visibility impossible.

Working with Wilson in the newest of two radar outfits which handle gournd controlled approaches are such men as Mater Sgt. Wilfred G. Karnz of Harbor Beach, Mich.: Staff .Sgt. Alan Doyle, of Cleveland, Ohio and Sgt. Charles Poth of Crestline.

A plane, loaded with supplies, approaches the blockaded city. When it gets within seven miles of the airport, the pilot hears Wilson's calm, reassuring voice take over.

Keeping his eyes on the screen and with mathematical advice from his assistants, Wilson begins to fly the plane. In a constant flow of words he tells the pilot which compass heading to follow, whether his altitude is too high or too low, whether his speed is too fast or too slow. He gives him the wind direction.

WATCHES INTENTLY

Wilson watches the radar screen intently for he must tell by the cloudy little "blip" on it how the incoming plane is doing. As it approaches he checks its altitude, speed and directon. He even tells the pilot when to let down his wing flaps and landing gear. Then, as the plane gets to the edge of the runway, he tells the pilot his exact position and turns it back to him. Sometimes, however, when the field is totally blacked ou he brings the plane on down to the runway and lands it completelt.

Master Sgt. Wilson gets more than only airlift data from his radar screens.

"We get Russian plans on the screens a lot," Wilson said. "They know that the radio tower makes a blind spot, and so they fly in there, play around awhile and then disappear again. They come in mostly when the weather is very bad. We don't know what they are doing, but we know they are in the range."

"Just give us the machinery and we'll bring 'em in," grinned Wilson. "We have to be sure there's plenty of chow and coal in this town for the winter."

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (U. P.) — Most Wyoming ranchers become proficient at cowboy chores at an early age, usually 10 or 15, but Fred De Witt Boice III has them beat by about five or 10 years.

At the age of six, Fred owns his own cattle, is the youngest member of the Wyoming Stock Growers' Association, and even has his own brand.

The six-year-old, who is in his first year of school, was given the cattle by the original owner of the PO ranch 12 miles north of Cheyenne, Fred Boice, Sr. The youngster is the fourth generation of the Boice family to live on the ranch.

He rides alone throughout the 22,000-acre ranch, and has taken part in more than one roundup.

RICE

LINDA ANN, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Rice, 277 West Dickson Avenue passed away at the Mansfield General Hospital Friday afternoon. Graveside services will be conducted this afternoon at three thirty o'clock at the Mansfield Cemetery by Rev. C. A. Portz.—(Finefrock's).

WRIGHT

SHERIDA LYNN, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, 359 West Third St., passed away shortly after birth Thursday at the Mansfield General Hospital. In addition to her parents she leaves a brother, Johnny, at home, and the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Ridenour and Mr. Otto Wright. Graveside services were held this morning in the Mansfield Cemetery by Rev. John C. Melchert.—(Wolford Funeral Home).

2—Card of Thanks

WE WISH to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us during the death of husband and father, Owen E. Shank. We wish to thank those that served as pallbearers. Especially Rev. McMain and his consoling words, and Snyder Funeral Home for kind service. Mrs. O. E. Swank and Family.

3—In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM—In memory of our dear husband, father, son and brother, Lt. Thomas Neal Gerhart, killed Dec. 18, 1944, in an airplane crash at Marana, Arizona. He is not dead, he is just away. Up in the sky, we seem to see your plane still flying, fleet and strong, and though that might seem fantasy, our hearts assure us we're not wrong. There's a face that is haunting as ever. There's a smile we'll remember forever. Though we try to forget every tear, there's sad but sweet remembrance. There's a memory fond and true. There's a token of affection, dear, and a heartache still for you. Mrs. Thomas Gerhart, sons Thomas jr., and Michael Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gerhart, Mrs. Arthur Zerby, Mrs. Julius Caesare, Richard Gerhart, Edward Gerhart.

Bexley Kayoes Tyger Win Streak at Three

by LAWTON CARVER

International News Service

NEW YORK—The greatest of all the post-season football games is ready for its 24th presentation at San Francisco on New Year's day.

This is the annual all-star engagement between the east and the west for the benefit of the Shriners' hospital for crippled children.

The game is one of the great futures of America's sporting scene and one of the few enterprises designed to help a cause rather than to enrich promoters.

The net returns from the 23 previous east-west games aggregates more than a million dollars turned over to shrine hospitals. That means that there is many a kid and adult in this country who can be thankful for this worthwhile enterprise.

The motto of the game is:

"Strong legs run that weak legs may walk."

★

YOU COULD PICK an all-time all-America from among the participants in the east-west classic and come up with a team as good as any ever to walk onto a gridiron. It might even be better.

You could start the all-time eleven by picking Bronko Nagurski, who made all-America at Minnesota as a tackle and for years was all-National league fullback for the Chicago Bears

You could come up with such gents as Herb Joesting of Minnesota, Beattie Feathers of Tennessee; Howard Harpster of Carnegie Tech; Brick Muller of California; Joe Routt of the Texas Aggies, and a couple of dozen more.

The squads for this year's game include many all-Americans of the past season, who will not be engaged in bowl competition elsewhere on New Year's Day.

★

THE COACHES are among the best in the business—for the west, Jeff Cravath of the University of Southern California; Ike Armstrong of Utah, and Dutch Myer of Texas Christian, and, for the midwest and east, Bernie Bierman of Minnesota; Andy Kerr of Lebanon Valley, and Tuss McLaughry of Dartmouth

The standings for the series shows that the west has won 12 games, the east seven and four have resulted in ties.

This is one game which should be played in the biggest available stadium to the biggest possible crowd for the best possible cause in football.

Pesek Demands Pay Hike, Tells Of Other Offers

BUCYRUS — Al Pesek, head football and basketball coach at Bucyrus high school, indicated today he will have to be paid more money if he remains at his present post.

Pesek disclosed that he had received several "feelers" concerning coaching positions at several northwestern Ohio high schools and colleges. He declined to name the schools.

Pesek is serving his third year here as head coach and athletic director. His 1948 football team won the Northern Ohio League championship

City School Supt D C Baer reported that Pesek had not consulted him concerning the offers. Pesek's present annual salary is $3,200 plus an additional $700 for work done during the summer months at the school's athletic field.

Wildcats Leave Today for Bowl

CHICAGO (AP) — Northwestern's 14-man football squad hopeful of becoming the third consecutive Big Nine team to win in the Rose Bowl, leaves for Los Angeles by special train today.

The group of players, plus Coach Bob Voris, Athletic Director Ted Peterson, Conference Commissioner Kenneth L. Wilson and other officials will arrive on the coast Monday morning (9 a. m. PST).

Short Rams Can't Match Rangy Foe

By CHARLEY STINE

The undefeated string of the Madison Rams was halted abruptly at three games last night by a tall, smooth-working Akron South team which took them in its stride, 67-42.

There was little doubt of the outcome from the time the big blue team appeared on the floor and only some game fighting and near-perfect foul shooting kept Madison in the running.

REFUSE TO FOLD

The Rams refused to fold despite the almost insurmountable height of the invaders and the accuracy with which they dropped in long and corner shots. Madison calmly dropped in 18 of 24 free throws to account for a large share of their offense. South started a team which averaged well over the six-foot mark.

Jack Feeman, leading scorer of the Akron city league last year, proved to be everything he was advertised as he dropped in 24 points while playing less than three quarters. He fouled out with five minutes to go in the fourth period.

He led South to a 12-8 first period and 39-17 half-time lead before going out for a rest. Madison hung on in the first period by making four out of five free throws but in the second period.

They outscored the Rams 17 to 9 in that period and 16 to 9 in the third as many of their baskets came on tipped in rebounds which the shorter Madison team could do nothing about.

WILD FOURTH

The fourth quarter was a wild affair though not quite so lopsided. With their backs to the wall, the Rams tried tight-pressing tactics and long shots which netted them 16 points. By the same methods, however, they let South loose for many fast breaks and the visitors counted 22.

Ed Chelski continued his pace as the Madison scoring leader as he knocked in 12 points on four field goals and four free throws. Three of his goals were from long range.

When Akron failed to bring a reserve team, Madison played the YMCA and went down to its fourth defeat, 32-25. Edmonston got 14 points to lead the 'Y' team.

Yingling's 614 Pin Tally Tops In League Bowling

Only two men out of five bowling leagues cracked the coveted honor roll last night. Glenn Yingling, rolling in the Moose league at Colony, turned in a 614 for the best of the night.

Yingling had to get hot in his final game to make the mark as he started off with scores of 194 and 199. A 221 finale put him over, however. Orbie Grable, also a Moose kegler, cracked out 216-183-203—602.

Musial Erases Records With Easy Dispatch

By RALPH RODEN

NEW YORK — (AP) — Stan Musial, the national league's most valuable player, rode into the record books today with the greatest collection of individual batting honors in 11 years.

The star outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals won the circuit's 1948 batting derby with a jefty .376 mark. In addition the Cardinal Clipper copped top honors in six other offensive departments.

Musial, who previously won the batting crown in 1943 and 1946, led the loop in runs batted in, 131; runs scored, 135; hits, 230, total bases, 429; doubles, 46, and triples, 18. Musial's .376 average is the highest since Arky Vaughan clouted .385 for Pittsburgh in 1935.

MISSES BY ONE

The 28-year-old ball hawk also socked 39 homers but Johnny Mize of New York and Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh topped the Card star's output in this department by clubbing 40 each

Not since Ducky Medwick, another Cardinal, led the league with a .314 average in 1937 has a player so dominated circuit laurels as Musial did last season. Medwick, besides winning the batting championship 11 years ago, also led in runs batted in, runs scored, doubles, total bases, hits and tied Mel Ott for home run honors

Musial, who batted at a .100 or better pace for a good part of the season, finished 43 points ahead of Richie Ashburn, fleet-footed rookie of the Philadelphia Phillies Ashburn, who went out of action with a broken hand in the last month, finished with a .333 mark.

IN SELECT LIST

Musial is the fourth player in the loop's history to take the crown three or more times. The other three are Honus Wagner who won eight titles while with Pittsburgh, Rogers Hornsby who copped seven, six while with St. Louis and one with Boston and Paul Waner, three, all for Pittsburgh

The Card mauler also tied a major and two national league records He made five hits in one game four times during the season to tie the Major league record set by Detroit's famous Ty Cobb in 1922 By leading the league in hits for the fourth time and triples for the third time he equalled two national records

Al Stirtzinger turned in 588 followed by Henry Michaels, 582, L. Malaska, 565, Phil Warga, 562; John Leppo, 559, and G. Schaffer, 558

Michaels had a 245 single game and William Trisler a 235.

★

Nick Komjenovich led Westinghouse D leaguers with a 545 series compiled on games of 198, 190, and 157. Only three others made the 500 mark in the league. Henry Rabal had 525, John Carr, 520, and Lou Tridico, 519.

★

Three bowlers in the Independent league went over 500. John Holda turned in 521, Benny Graska, 516, and Al Rowan, 500. Holda's 202 middle game was the top single effort.

★

Gay Nineties moved out in front in the Women's Commercial B league as it swept a three game series with Saprano's Bar. Ingram-Martin, which had been tied for the lead, won two of three from K. and D. Cafe.

Elizabeth Hotf of Liederkranz was the only league bowler to go over the 500 mark as she posted 165-154-194- 513. Mary McMullen was runner-up with 498, while Sis DeWeese turned in 490, Helen Bieber, 485, Lena Aston, 489.

★

Only one league—Barnes Manufacturing — rolled at Richland Recreation. Gene Rudolph was high in the circuit with 517. Watkins was runner-up with 491.

Cards and Eagles Battle 2nd Time

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — The Philadelphia Eagles and the Chicago Cardinals, who met one year ago to decide a National football league championship, tangle all over again tomorrow to settle the 1948 title.

Some 37,000 fans will pack Shibe park to see whether the high-flying Eagles can avenge the 28-21 licking the Cardinals handed them at Chicago last Dec. 28 to win the NFL crown.

St. Louis Browns Buy Savage From Athletics

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Bob Savage, right-handed pitcher, will do his hurling for the St. Louis Browns next season

The Philadelphia Athletics yesterday sold the 27-year-old hurler to the Browns for an unannounced sum of cash. Savage was used chiefly in relief roles last season by Connie Mack, winning five and losing one.

Saddler Pounds Heavier Opponent

NEW YORK — (UP) — Slim Sandy Saddler, world featherweight champion, gained further stature today as a future contender for the lightweight crown after his 10th-round technical knockout victory over Terry Young, a natural 135-pound campaigner.

Although out-weighed by eight pounds, Saddler gave Young a terrific beating before Referee Eddie Joseph stopped the fight at 37 seconds of the final round at Madison Square Garden. Saddler weighed 128 pounds, Young 136. The bout was a non-title match.

Ontario Five Takes Place Of Lexington

LEXINGTON — An overconfident Lexington cage team was knocked out of first place in the Richland county league last night by stubborn Lucas which jumped into a big lead and refused to be caught, winning 39-37. The defeat for Lexington left Ontario in first place as the lone undefeated team in the circuit.

It was only the second victory of the season for Lucas which had beaten only Shiloh, another team which rose from the depths last night. Lucas led 23-15 at the half and 31-25 at the end of the third period. It held a ten-point advantage with two minutes to play when Lexington began to catch up, but the horse had already been stolen.

The Minutemen's two high-scoring forwards, Dick Cline and Tom Tupps were held to one point each. Jack Stephenson, playing his first game of the year, batted in 11 counters to lead Lucas.

Lexington reserves won 23-19 in the preliminary for their 11th straight.

Warriors Rap Plymouth Five

PLYMOUTH — Coach Dick Casad's Ontario Warriors took over undisputed possession of first place in the county league by pounding out a 36-31 victory over Plymouth.

Accuracy at the foul line paid off for the Warriors as they made good on 20 of 27 free throws. Plymouth dropped in 13 out of 19 but the extra number of personals it committed spelled defeat.

Desmond Dennenwirth led the Minutemen with 17 points while the league's leading scorer, Howard Sunnucks, was held to nine. Ontario also won the reserve game by a 35-29 score.

Shiloh Wins First In Loop

SHILOH—An underdog Shiloh basketball team rose up off the floor here last night to knock the stilts out from under Union by an easy 38-24 score.

Shiloh led 13-11 at the half and poured it on the last two periods to build up its lead. Wallace was the pace-setter for the home forces with six field goals and five free throws for 17 points.

The Shiloh reserves made the night complete as they won 24-17 after trailing at the half 8-7

Lions In Surprise Win Over Bengals

COLUMBUS—Favored Mansfield Senior high came a cropper here last night and dropped its first game of the basketball season to an inexperienced Bexley quintet, 35-30.

The Tygers of Coach Vern Hoffman had sailed easily over three opponents and averaged 53 points a game prior to last night. But the Bengals couldn't get going and had only 22 points after 29 minutes of effort.

Bexley had won two of three games against fair competition and did not figure in the same class with the Tygers. However, the Lions kept pecking away and actually won the game from the free throw line.

BETTER FROM COURT

Although their shooting was definitely below par, the Tyger basketeers managed to make 14 shots from the court to 13 for the winners. Senior high made only one of seven shots in the first quarter and 14 of 59 during the tilt.

The Bexley lads connected on nine of 20 foul shots while Senior high made only two of eight.

The score remained close until mid-way in the fourth quarter. Bexley pulled away to a 8-to-2 lead in the first stanza when Mansfield did not get a field goal until Jimmy Anderson hit a bunny shot with five seconds to go.

CUT INTO LEAD

A pair of baskets by Norb Shibinski and two by Willie Fowler enabled the Tygers to pare the Bexley lead to 14-12 at the half. Then in the third heat Pug Bernlohr scored six of his 12 points to help Bexley to a 22-to-18 lead.

In the first five minutes of the fourth period, the Lions moved out in front, 33 to 22. The Tygers finally came to life at that point and Shibinski banged home two quick pivot shots. Krieger hit a foul for Bexley. Shibinski came through again with a rebound two-pointer and Cohen dropped home another Bexley gratis toss.

Fowler scored on a fast break to wind up the Bengal scoring

Shibinski notched scoring honors for the first time with 14.

SOPHS WIN AGAIN

The undefeated Bengal sophomore crew of Coach Fred Staub racked up its fifth straight victory in the opener, 31 to 23.

However, the Tyger cubs did it the hard way. They trailed until only three minutes were left on the clock. The Mansfielders broke a 21-21 tie and won going away. Bexley led by periods, 3 to 2, 11 to 9 and 19 to 16.

Gene Fidler again led the Mansfield scoring with 12 points.

Bucyrus Crew Knocks Over Galion, 56-39

BUCYRUS — With 11 men breaking into the scoring column, the Bucyrus Redmen romped over Galion, 56 to 39, here last night in a non-league game. Both teams are members of the Northern Ohio loop.

Galion kept well in the game until the third quarter. The visitors led at the first two intermissions points 9 to 7 and 20 to 16 but really piled on the coal to smash the Tigers, 20 to 4, in the third stanza. The losers had the upper hand in the scoring in the fourth period, 19 to 16.

Sophomore Ray Seif, Galion forward, was the game's top scorer with 16 markers while Bill Kibler had 15 for the winners.

The prelim also went to Bucyrus, 36 to 18.

City's Churches Tell Story of Christ's Birth

Song, Sermon to Open Age-Old Celebration

By NITA BRANSON

"Glory to God in the Highest."

The song the angels sang to the shepherds nearly two thousand years ago is as new today as it was then. It inspires reverence in the hearts of men and brings them together for worship of the Christ Child, born in a lowly stable.

Observance of Christmas, the major event on the Christian calendar, will begin Sunday morning. Song, sermon, and prayer will tell the story of the Holy birth.

In all services of the city tomorrow morning, there will be Christmas music to accent the words of the pastors, bringing messages of peace and good will as the angels sang them to old Judea. In several city sanctuaries, choirs and choruses will present yuletide programs.

Here are the Sunday morning programs of some of the city's churches:

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Miss Mabel Zehner will open the service with "Christmas," by Dethier, closing it with "From Heaven Above to Earth I Come," a tocata by Edmundson. The choir, led by Mrs. C. A. Anglin, will sing "Holy Night, Peaceful Night" as an anthem and for the offertory solo Royal Buchanan will present "Cantique de Noel," by Adams.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Mrs. Clarence Rice will direct the primary and junior departments of the church in their annual Christmas program at a unified service at 9:30 a. m.

FIRST CHURCH OF GOD

There will be a children's program at 10:45 a. m., presented by the Sunday school pupils, taking as their theme, "Christ's Birthday."

FIRST CHRISTIAN

Emphasis will be placed on familiar music at a unified service. Sunday school classes will meet briefly at 9:30 a. m., and the remainder of the service will be devoted to the Christmas story in Scripture and song. The three choirs of the church and the Sunday school orchestra will participate. Mrs. James Steele will be the reader.

Besides the communion service, there will be a prelude, "Consecration Overture," and selections from "The Messiah," played by the orchestra, led by Maurice Lyharger. The young people's choir will sing an old French carol, "Sing, We Noel," and the junior choir will sing, "Away in a Manger" and "O Little Stars Shine Out," with Miss Alice Wendling directing both choirs.

Mrs. Bruce Rogers will lead the chapel choir in singing, "There Were Shepherds" and "Christmas Gloria." Solos will include "O Holy City" by Charles Garson, "Ave Maria" by Mrs. Jay Chubbs and "Jesu Bambino," a violin solo by Miss Geraldine Lober.

A mixed quartet, Mrs. O. F. Shivley, Mrs. J. D. Wilcox, Clarence Swaidner and Paul Thomas, will sing "Let Us Now Go Even Unto Bethlehem." "We Three Kings" will be sung by Kenneth Gabor, Richard Warne and Emmett Izer jr. Miss Donna Isaman, Miss Sylvia Warne, Miss Maizie Birmelin and Mrs. Dolores Schnuerer will sing "O Holy Night."

The closing number will be a medley of Christmas carols by the orchestra and all three choirs. The postlude, "Jubilate Deo" will be played by Mrs. Herman Clingan, organist.

FIRST EVANGELICAL UB

The Christmas cantata, "The Babe of Bethlehem," by Bernard Hamblen, will be given by the choir under the leadership of Lawrence Chamberlain. Mrs. Herbert Hoover will be the accompanist.

The cantata will open with an instrumental pastorale, "Through the Night," with the chorus joining.

Solos during the cantata will be presented by Chamberlain, who will sing "And the Angel Said Unto Them"; Mrs. William Friend in "Now When Jesus Was Born"; Mrs. Earl Crider in "And lo, the Star"; Mrs. Clyde Willey, singing "And They Fell Down and Worshipped Him"; Miss Carrie Lucas, in "And Being Warned of God."

Choir numbers will be "Glory to God in the Highest" and "Once Again the Bells Are Ringing." A men's chorus will sing "Far Across the Desert Sands," and "Princes Three, Their Mission Done." Miss Vivian McBride, Miss Stella Friend, Ward Barrett and Chamberlain will sing "In an Humble Cattle Shed." A choir of mixed voices will present "O'er Bethlehem City."

A solo and chorus group for women's voices will sing "Gifts for Lord Jesus" with Miss Marrianne Harry and Miss Doris Breach as soloists.

CENTRAL METHODIST

"Christmas," by Detheir, played by Miss Elizabeth Burneson, will open the service tomorrow morning. The choir will sing three Christmas anthems, "Floris in Excelsis Deo" by Duncan, "I Wonder as I Wander," an Appalachian carol, and "Christmas Bells," by Gillette. For an organ postlude Miss Burneson will play "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah."

FIRST METHODIST

Mrs. Willis Naas will also use Dethier's "Christmas" for an organ prelude. The service will be made up mostly of music with a brief message. A quartet including Miss Imogene Backus, Mrs. William Reese, Leo Blackstone and Kenneth Stonebrook, will sing "The First Noel." Anthems by the choir will be "Cherubic Hymn," by Bortniansky, and "Birthday of a King," by Neidlinger, with Dr. Ralph Wadsworth as soloist.

Combined choirs of the church will present "Shepherd's Christmas Song," an Austrian folk song with Mrs. Robert Parker as soloist and Miss Pearl Danback playing the flute.

The children's choir will sing "Rise Up, Shepherd and Follow" and Miss Danback will play as a flute solo, "Adagio Nobile," by James Donjon. An ensemble, comprised of Miss Betty Gorsuch, soloist, Mrs. Kenneth Erb, Mrs. Vernon Ford, Mrs. Edwin Cooper, Miss Bernice Bauer, Earle Frankeberger, Dr. Wadsworth, Lynn Decker, Willis Naas and Harold Huber will present "Sing Noel" and "Sleep of the Child Jesus," both French carols.

The closing number will be given by the choir singing "Christmas Day," a fantasy of old English carols, with Mrs. Gerald Wyatt, Willis Naas, Mrs. Erb and Dr. Wadsworth as soloists.

The congregation will join in the singing of a number of appropriate hymns.

The choir, led by A. Lemoine Derr, will sing "Hallelujah Chorus" from the Messiah and as an offertory solo, Miss June Zaebst will sing, "Jesus Only," by Rotoli.

During the morning service, the children of the nursery, beginners, primary and junior departments will present a Christmas program of songs, recitations and dialogues.

EAST MANSFIELD CHURCH

During the morning worship at the East Mansfield United Presbyterian church, Rev. E. W. Welch will tell the stories of Christmas carols as they are sung by the congregation. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. S. E. Chronister, will sing "O Holy Night."

MAYFLOWER CHURCH

The senior choir will sing "The Bell Carol" and "Silent Night, Holy Night." Members of the junior choir will present "The Angel's Song" and there will be a vocal solo, "Jesu Bambino," by Mrs. Harry Scott. "Cantique de Noel" will be played as an organ prelude and "Venite Adoremus" as the postlude.

AT THE INN—Mary and Joseph appear at the Bethlehem Inn for lodging only to find "there is no room." That is the story of the play, "At the Inn," which members of the First Lutheran church will present tomorrow night. Left to right, the players are Harlan Long as Joel, the innkeeper; Mrs. Charles Wolford, as Rachel, his wife; Mrs. Carveth P. Mitchell as Mary, and Gaylord Farber as Joseph.

Churches Plan Programs

Music, Drama Usher In Holiday Week

"Because there was no room for them in the inn."

That is why the Christ Child was born in a stable, according to St. Luke. This fact forms the basis for the play, "At the Inn," which will be presented Sunday night at the First Lutheran church by members of the Home Builders class of the Sunday school taught by Mrs. Lewis Cashell.

The play is indicative of the programs which will be given in many city churches tomorrow night.

In the cast are Harlang Long, Mrs. Charles Wolford, Mrs. Carveth P. Mitchell, Baylord Farber, Homer Beck, George Culler, Clayson Bell, Russell McCullough, David Harnly, E. L. Zerbach, Harold Boals and Russell Zimmerman.

The inn courtyard scene was painted as a backdrop by Miss Ruth Maffatt, art teacher in the city schools. In connection with the play the treble choir of the church will sing, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and parts from Handel's "Messiah."

The congregation of the First Methodist church will meet for a covered dish supper at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow in the assembly room. Following the supper, all will go to the sanctuary where Christmas carols will be projected on a screen, and the children will present a program. Later Santa will greet the children in the primary room, and give them their treat.

The program will be put on by members of the kindergarten, primary, junior and intermediate departments, all of whom will have recitations and songs. A play, "Christmas Comes From Everywhere," will be directed by Mrs. E. D. Gobson with junior and intermediate members in the cast.

PLAY AND PAGEANT

The young people of the First Church of God, South McElroy and Malahora roads, will present a play, "The Road to Bethlehem," at 7:30 p. m.

A pageant, "Christ is a Miracle," will be given by the young people of the Mayflower Congregational church at 7:30 p. m.

"Ye Shall Find a Babe," will be the subject of a play to be given by the young people's group of the First Brethren church, Bowman street.

The annual program, to be given by the children with their parents and friends in attendance, will be staged at 7:30 p. m. at the St. Paul Lutheran church.

Mrs. J. Hugh Ward will direct a religious pageant by the combined church schools at the Grace Episcopal church tomorrow at 7 p. m. The pageant will be supplemented by a full choir under the direction of Mrs. Dean Eckert. Following the pageant, the annual Christmas tree party, celebrating the coming of Santa Claus, will be held in the Undercroft.

Mrs. G. N. McDonald, assisted by departmental superintendents and teachers will have charge of the annual Christmas program at the Main Street Evangelical church at 7:30 p. m.

The annual Christmas entertainment of St. Matthew's Lutheran church will take place in the basement of the church at 7:30 p. m., with beginners, primary and junior deprtments participating. Mrs. Ray Beal, Mrs. Chester Daugherty, and Miss Dorothy Buck will be in charge. Santa Claus will make his appearance and distribute the Christmas treat.

The Yuletide program for the Foursquare Gospel church will be presented at 7:45 p. m. in charge of Mrs. Lena Fisher, superintendent of the Sunday school. Children from each class will join in a series of recitations, songs, while the young people, directed by Loren Ernsberger, will present a Bible drama. "Mine Eyes Have Seen the Glory." The choir will supplement the program with special music.

WILL SHOW SLIDES

The first part of the program to be presented by the Sunday school of St. Mark's Lutheran, will consist of the singing of Christmas carols, recitations and dialogues by the primary department. The junior choir will sing, "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day," and "Angels We Have Heard On High," an old French melody. The last part of the program will include the telling of the Christmas story by means of colored slides.

"The Christmas Story in Songs and Words," will be presented at the First United Presbyterian church. The junior and senior choirs under the direction of Charles Wolfgang will present the musical part of the program, also scheduled for tomorrow night.

The annual presentation of Christmas features by the children of the church will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the Park Avenue Baptist church.

Miss Ruth Reynolds will have charge of the children's program at the East Mansfield United Presbyterian church. The choir will assist with Christmas anthems.

The Christmas cantata, "The Prince of Bethlehem," will be presented tomorrow night at the Church of the Nazarene with Mrs. Brady Bryan directing and Miss Hazel Perry, as accompanist. Reader for the cantata will be Mrs. Harold Mattox. Soloists will include: Miss Viola Smith, Walter Powell, and James Young.

A trio including Miss Ann Wallace, Miss Perry and Mrs. Bryan will sing two numbers. The junior choir will sing carols preceding the cantata presentation. The speaker for the service will be Miss Faith Cockran of Argentina.

At the First Evangelical UB church, pupils of the nursery, beginners, primary and junior departments will join in presenting a series of recitations and songs. There will be ten of the smallest children from the nursery department each of whom will have a short recitation. Exercises and songs by the others will round out the program, closing with a playlet, "The Christmas Shepherds," by a junior group.

Children of the St. Luke's Lutheran Sunday school will join in entertaining the adult members with Christmas features at 7:30 p. m.

Church to Get Carpet As Gift

The women's division of the First United Presbyterian church will present a new carpet to the church Sunday morning. The presentation will be made by Mrs. William Durschel and the carpet will be placed in the church next week.

Mrs. Druschel is president of the division and Mrs. Orlan Hoyer, Mrs. Henry Senert and Mrs. Frank Leavitt constituted the purchasing committee.

The carpet will be accepted for the congregaton by Arquette Rust, president of the board of trustees.

Twin Sons Born To Ex-Crestliner

CRESTLINE — Crestline relatives and friends have received word of the birth of twin sons, Will C. and Willis C., born to Mr. and Mrs. William C. Prout of Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Prout was the former Miss Naomi Kaler, daughter of Willis Kaler of Diamond street.

Christmas Programs Set At Five Churches Next Week

Five churches of the city will hold their annual Christmas programs next week.

At the First Presbyterian church, a program will be given Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., with a Santa Claus and refreshments. All members of the family are invited to this party.

The beginners, primary and junior departments of the Central Methodist church will present their program next Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the downstairs assembly room of the church.

The program at the First United Presbyterian church also will be held next Tuesday, beginning at 7:30 p. m. The program will be followed by a distribution of gifts and an hour or two of fellowship and refreshments. Mrs. Willis Jones is chairman of the program committee which includes all the teachers in the primary department. The program is for the families of the church.

A Christmas service by the kindergarten, beginners, primary and junior departments will be held at the St. John's Evangelical church next Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

The Lutheran mission will hold its special service at 7:30 p. m. next Thursday. Rev. Wray Smith will preach on the subject "So Glorious a Light."

Children Invited to 'Stump Preacher'

Something different in children's sermons has been started at the First United Presbyterian church by Rev. Charles L. Shook.

Each Sunday a boy or girl of the church takes an object to the pastor and from that object Rev. Shook preaches an impromptu sermon. He doesn't know in advance what the object will be. Because of its surprise element, Rev. Shook has named the series "Stump the Preacher." Last Sunday Jimmie Kiser gave Rev. Shook a fingernail clipper and from it Rev. Shook preached a children's sermon.

About 34,500,000 or 95% of the housewives in United States today do home sewing. Fifty-two and one-half percent are creative sewers who make clothing or household items; 43% do mostly mending and darning.
